$30 Million Windfall May Go to Rhodes

Stepped-up Utility
Tax Payment Plan
Near OK in Senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Senate may complete action today on a bill which would give the Republican administration a cash windfall of $30 million.

Richard L. Krabach has said the measure to require public utilities to make quarterly, rather than annual, payments of their excise tax would be a welcome addition to the state's ready cash balance.

As things now stand, utility excise taxes have been paid once each year and the entire proceeds go for poor relief, part by counties which receive a subsidy from the state from the utility fund, and part from the state which uses the rest of the utility fund to finance its share of relief cost.

If the state succeeds in getting quarterly payments from the utilities, in advance of the normal annual collection date of next December, the cash - poor treasury could benefit by $30 million in ready cash even though there might be no real gain in revenue over a 12-month period. The state simply would get the money earlier without the obligation to pay counties.

Hard - pressed counties which are straining their seams in an attempt to meet current relief bills are insisting they should share in the early collection of utility excise taxes.

Monday night, as the Senate started its 14th work week, it passed and sent to the House a bill to regulate junk yards outside municipalities and to keep them in the backgrounds.

The measure was sponsored by Sens. Edmund Sargus, D-Belmont, and Charles Jones, R-Butler.

It requires new junk yards to be at least 1,000 feet from state and county highways and at least 300 feet from township roads. It also provides they must be hidden by natural obstructions or non-transparent fence at least six feet high. The measure would permit existing auto graveyards to operate, provided they do not expand their operations.

All operators would be subject to a $100 fee for their first year's operation plus $25 for each year's renewal. All fees would go to county funds.

Junk yard regulation, under present law, is exclusively a municipal operation.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill requiring notice to county commissioners or municipal councils of new or transferred liquor permits into a given area. The transfer matter was brought into the bill by Rep. Michael Sweeney, D - Cuyahoga, over the objections of the principal sponsor, Rep. Fred Cassel, R-Wyandot. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Special Holy Week Services Set in City, County Churches

Several Circleville and Pickaway County churches have scheduled special Holy Week services as the Lenten Season comes to a close on Easter Sunday.

Holy Saturday and Easter Sunday services will be announced on Friday's church page of The Herald. Here is a list of services earlier in the week:

TRINITY LUTHERAN
Maundy Thursday Communion Service will be held 7:30 p. m. in the parish house. The Adult Choir will present special music.

Good Friday Services will be held from 1:30 to 2:30 p. m. in the parish house with music by the Adult Choir.

A communion Service will be

A 'WILD' TIME — President Kennedy lets loose with a near wild throw (top) to open the American League season that saw the hometown Senators drop a 3-1 game to the Orioles. Churchill To Become U.S. Citizen in Ceremony Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill, the magnificent Briton, becomes officially today what he has been for two decades in the hearts of Americans—the first honorary citizen of the United States.

The bestowing of this honor, unique in history, requires only a touch of President Kennedy's pen on a bill enacted by Congress and a second signature on a presidential proclamation.

Wary now with the weight of 88 years, Sir Winston was unable to be present to receive a nation's accolade. Neither were Herbert Hoover, Harry S. Truman and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the three former presidents, able to accept Kennedy's invitation to attend.

The ceremony was carefully timed, at 3 p.m. EST, so that the British Broadcasting Corp. could bounce it off the orbiting Relay satellite and Churchill could watch it on television in his London home.

Sir Winston sent a special message of acceptance and appreciation to be read by his son, Randolph.

The setting was the Rose Garden, outside the White House where Churchill helped chart the strategy of global war and peered at the problems of an uneasy peace in the climactic years of a stirring erratic career.

It was in this house that the man Britain chose as her prime minister in the moment of her greatest peril showed up suddenly and secretly a few days after Japan smashed at Pearl Harbor and the United States went limping off to war.

Side by side in the oval presidential office, Churchill and Franklin D. Roosevelt thundered at the common enemy at a joint news conference. They assured the world that Allied might ultimately would win out over Germany first and then Japan. Spry then, Churchill climbed onto a chair, chopped a cigar, and poked his split fingers aloft in his renowned V for Victory salute.

In those desperate days of World War II, Churchill was the symbol and the leader of an indomitable Britain. It didn't matter that Churchill twice had been a political turncoat and a consistent political failure. Or that he was impulsive and contradictory, and detested as well as admired in his own land.

U.S., Soviet Eye 'Hot Line'

GENEVA (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union open direct negotiations today on a "hot line" teletype circuit between Washington and Moscow.

U.S. Ambassador Charles C. Stelle and Soviet disarmament negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin were to meet this afternoon at the headquarters of the U.S. delegation to the 17-nation disarmament conference.

The governments agree that the direct teletype between their capitals would provide a safeguard against an outbreak of world war by accident or miscalculation.

They also believe the circuit would make an important contribution to reducing East-West tension generally.

For the moment, the United States and the Soviet Union regard the line as strictly a two-nation affair.

State Educator Raps Rhodes' Finance Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes' proposed outlay for education in the next two years represents a miscarriage of justice for the people of the state, a member of the State Board of Education has charged.

Robert A. Manchester of Youngstown, speaking Monday at the board's monthly meeting, asserted that the governor has given "more or less cursory treatment" to the board's proposed $130 million increase in the school foundation program.

Rhodes' budget recommendation calls for a $45 million, two-year boost in the program to cover increased costs connected to enrollment growth. Manchester said the board's $130 million figure "is not some fantastic figure but bare minimum need."

Manchester's remarks brought mixed reactions from other board members before Dr. E. E. Holt, superintendent of instruction, noted that the legislature has not acted on the board's proposals. The board is required by statute to submit its recommendations to both the governor and the General Assembly.

Edward C. Ames, Toledo, said he shared Manchester's concern but added: "I would hate to see this board become a political arena."

Ralph Regula, Navarre, said the board's business is to make recommendations on the basis of needs but not to get into the business of financing.

The board took final action to revoke the certificates of two former teachers charged with intemperance and immoral conduct. Revoked were the secondary certificates held by Willard H. Moore, formerly of Ridgeville Local, Lorain County, and a special certificate held by Gordon Crane, formerly of Cedar Cliff Local, Greene County.

In other actions, the board: —Tabled a request to extend the charter revocation for Bladensburg High School, Knox County, beyond June 30, 1963.

—Declined to make a study requested by Beaverdam Local, Allen County, of the possibility of merging that district with Bluffton.

—Formally approved the transfer of the "Asbury Tract" from the Fairfield Local, Butler County, to the Hamilton City District following municipal annexation.

—Titled "Pacem in Terris" or "Peace on Earth," the letter is a broad appeal for world peace. It will be made public Wednesday.

It is the first papal encyclical devoted exclusively to the theme of peace.

The Pope ceremonially signed five specially printed copies of the encyclical in his private library. Four of the copies will go into the Vatican archives. The fifth will remain in the Pope's personal files.

Parents were reminded today by City Superintendent Fritz Jacobs that registration for fall kindergarten classes will be conducted tomorrow in Circleville schools. Present kindergarten students will have a "free day" tomorrow, Jacobs added.

HARRY TIMMONS, local Civil Defense director, announced plans today for a benefit circus and wild animal show to be held May 30, at the fairgrounds. Timmons said proceeds from the show will be used to buy needed radio equipment for local civil defense work. The Al G. Kelley and Miller Brothers Circus is billed as "one of the largest wild animal shows in the world" and features 25 elephants and 33 cages of wild animals, according to Timmons. An "old-fashioned" circus parade to the fairgrounds is planned when the unit arrives in town, he said, and an advance sale of tickets will go into operation soon.

Goldwater Lets Down Bars For Backers To Beat Drum

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater has let the bars down for supporters to find out what enthusiasm they can generate with a move to draft him for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

Goldwater's reaction to the announcement Monday of the formation of a national draft committee was a resigned shrug and the statement, "If they want to waste their time and money, that's their business."

Acknowledging that he knows most of the people involved, Goldwater disclaimed any connection with the movement started by Peter O'Donnell Jr., Texas Republican state chairman.

Goldwater said in an interview, he is "only running in Arizona" for re-election to the Senate next year. He said the presidential nomination movement "will have to get along without any help from me."

"These things are springing up all over the country," he said. "I've just given up trying to stop them."

Goldwater said he knew nothing about the financing of the O'Donnell organization except that he considered it had "a mighty good fund raiser" in its treasurer, J. William Millendorf, of Greenwich, Conn., a New York stock broker and member of the Connecticut Republican Finance Committee.

Goldwater's action in permitting

his followers to begin plugging at this early date for a nomination he predicts publicly he won't get contrasted sharply with steps New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller took to stamp out a similar California move in his behalf.

Rockefeller, who will bring his unannounced campaign for the nomination to Washington for a series of speeches Wednesday, forced former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight to close a Rockefeller for President headquarters in California. The New Yorker obviously was operating on the theory that it's too soon to get out in the open.

Significantly perhaps, Goldwater avoided saying at a meeting of the District of Columbia Committee Monday how he stands on the issue of running in next year's presidential primaries where Rockefeller's name may be entered.

SEATO Chiefs Seek To Curb Any Red Thrust at Thailand

PARIS (AP)—Ministers of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization go behind closed doors today to study ways to prevent lightning from the war clouds in Laos from striking neighboring Thailand.

The prospect that the pro-Communist Pathet Lao would take over all of northern Laos spurred urgent consultations among the foreign ministers of the eight SEATO nations, whose alliance is aimed at keeping the Communists from taking over Southeast Asia.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk Monday urged all signers of the 1962 agreement neutralizing Laos to "prevent further aggravation of the situation."

The signers include the Soviet Union and Communist China.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home told the ministerial council that his ambassador in Moscow, Sir Humphrey Trevelyan, has been in close contact with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko on the situation.

Britain and the Soviet Union are co-chairmen of the Geneva conference. They had their representatives in Laos appeal to all parties for restraint.

One side effect of the SEATO meeting was an apparent warming up on French relations with Britain and the United States.

Rusk conferred with President Charles de Gaulle in what was described as a cordial atmosphere. It was the first such high level French-American meeting since De Gaulle spurned President Kennedy's offer of Polaris missiles for French submarines as a start toward a NATO nuclear force.

Lord Home said French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville for the first time since France blocked Britain's bid for entry into the Common Market.

The British and Americans had another difficulty. Pakistan, a SEATO member, was reported taking a stand-offish attitude at the meeting because of arms aid to India by the two powers.

New Racial Display Due In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—New racial demonstrations were planned today and blind singer Al Hibbler said he would lead a prayer march in this Deep South city.

"I'm willing to go to jail," said Hibbler.

"I'm itching to go to jail," the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy told some 300 chanting Negroes who attended a rally Monday night.

Ninety-six Negroes have been arrested since demonstrations began last Wednesday. Of these, 55 have been convicted of trespassing after warning and sentenced to 180 days in jail and fined $100 each.

Cases against 41 others arrested in racial demonstrations were sent to Federal Court. They claimed their civil rights were violated in a city court trial.

The Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth, a Negro minister, told newsmen that the U.S. attorney generals office had asked integration leaders for a moratorium on their direct action fight.

"We have been under a moratorium too long," said Shuttlesworth. "We turned them down. We are here for the duration. Many of us are willing to die, if necessary, on the streets of Birmingham."

Pearson Lacks Clear Majority In Parliament

TORONTO (AP) — Liberals triumphed in the Canadian election, emerging again as the leading political party, and Lester B. Pearson had the prime ministry almost in his grasp today.

Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker, in effect repudiated by the voters, was holding on to the job for the time being and possibly will keep it for weeks. But it appeared only a matter of time before he would have to vacate the top Canadian job of government. The voters' view toward what many regard as the Diefenbaker regime's ineffectiveness was shown by the fact that six of his Cabinet ministers lost their parliamentary seats in Monday's election.

At the last count of the voting results, the Liberals had 127 seats in the House of Commons, six less than the 133 that means majority command over all opposition parties.

The Conservatives had 95 seats, the Social Credit party 24 and the New Democrats 17.

Two seats remained in doubt. Thus the Liberals appeared to have scant chance of getting a clearcut majority unless they could pull some magic in close races out of the returns from servicemen which are to be announced next weekend.

By the usual procedure, the party gaining most seats names the prime minister. That would put Pearson, at 65, in line to take over the leadership he failed to win in two previous attempts, 1958 and 1962.

Diefenbaker said he will confer with his Cabinet but indicated he intends to take advantage of his right to hold on until the new Parliament lines up by parties, perhaps in six weeks.

A call for Diefenbaker's retirement as leader of the Conservative party came from Douglas Harkness, who quit as Diefenbaker's defense minister in this winter's dispute over acquisition of nuclear warheads.

Harkness, a Conservative who has won seven times in his Alberta district, said "After this election it is apparent a leadership convention will be in order."

Further opposition to Diefenbaker within the party is bound to come as a result of Monday's (Continued on Page 2)

Reaching 100th Birthday Said No Reason To Cheer

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Reaching the century mark in age usually is a source of pride, but not so for John Murphy, who, according to official records, will observe his 100th birthday today.

"I still think I'm only 98 no matter what other people say," Murphy told a reporter.

He credits "hard work, I guess" for his long life, but candidly admits he didn't like any of his many jobs.

Soviets See NATO Nuclear Plan Bringing Rocket Race

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has told the United States the creation of a multinational nuclear force under NATO will "unleash a race in rocket - nuclear armaments," Tass said today.

The statement was made in a Soviet government note to the United States handed by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko to the U.S. ambassador in Moscow Monday.

It described the NATO nuclear force plan as an attempt to give the Bundeswehr — West German army—and the "armed forces of other countries access to nuclear-rocket weapons, to extend preparations for thermonuclear war and to unleash a race in nuclear-rocket armaments transcending all national and geographic boundaries."

The Soviet government declared that the plan is "a modern expression of the position of strength policy, a policy of pressure and dictate of which nuclear weapons are proclaimed as the main element and core."

The Soviet government called on the U.S. government to help resolve the paramount international problems and, by joint effort, to halt the race in nuclear-rocket armaments, Tass said.

This call was also made in similar notes Gromyko handed to the British ambassador and the West German charge d'affaires Monday.

Copies were forwarded to the governments of other NATO nations.

The 5,000-word text revived a Soviet call for a nonaggression pact between NATO and the Russian-led Warsaw Pact, suggesting that this should be the first step in measures to ease international tension.

The note was shot through with accusations that the whole NATO nuclear operation, centering now on the idea of an international fleet, was intended to put nuclear weapons in the hands of Bonn "militarists and revenge seekers."

The protest was coupled with a warning that the Soviet government would take necessary countermeasures.

"With the realization of the plans of the NATO leaders, nuclear weapons with their inevitable corollary—the war danger—would spread over our planet as oil spreads over water."

"The extension of the area from which a nuclear attack could be launched would naturally extend the sphere of application of retaliatory measures inevitable in such cases. May no one seek a threat in this statement of the Soviet government. All this is nearly copy book truth, a simple acknowledgement of what can be precisely assessed today."

Stepped-up Utility Tax Payment Plan Near OK in Senate

Goldwater Lets Down Bars For Backers To Beat Drum

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater has let the bars down for supporters to find out what enthusiasm they can generate with a move to draft him for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

Goldwater's reaction to the announcement Monday of the formation of a national draft committee was a resigned shrug and the statement, "If they want to waste their time and money, that's their business."

Acknowledging that he knows most of the people involved, Goldwater disclaimed any connection with the movement started by Peter O'Donnell Jr., Texas Republican state chairman.

Goldwater said in an interview, he is "only running in Arizona" for re-election to the Senate next year. He said the presidential nomination movement "will have to get along without any help from me."

"These things are springing up all over the country" he said. "I've just given up trying to stop them."

Goldwater said he knew nothing about the financing of the O'Donnell organization except that he considered it had "a mighty good fund raiser" in its treasurer, J. William Millendorf, of Greenwich, Conn., a New York stock broker and member of the Connecticut Republican Finance Committee.

Goldwater's action in permitting

his followers to begin plugging at this early date for a nomination he predicts publicly he won't get contrasted sharply with steps New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller took to stamp out a similar California move in his behalf.

Rockefeller, who will bring his unannounced campaign for the nomination to Washington for a series of speeches Wednesday, forced former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight to close a Rockefeller for President headquarters in California. The New Yorker obviously was operating on the theory that it's too soon to get out in the open.

Significantly perhaps, Goldwater avoided saying at a meeting of the District of Columbia Committee Monday how he stands on the issue of running in next year's presidential primaries where Rockefeller's name may be entered.

SEATO Chiefs Seek To Curb Any Red Thrust at Thailand

PARIS (AP)—Ministers of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization go behind closed doors today to study ways to prevent lightning from the war clouds in Laos from striking neighboring Thailand.

The prospect that the pro-Communist Pathet Lao would take over all of northern Laos spurred urgent consultations among the foreign ministers of the eight SEATO nations, whose alliance is aimed at keeping the Communists from taking over Southeast Asia.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk Monday urged all signers of the 1952 agreement neutralizing Laos to "prevent further aggravation of the situation."

The signers include the Soviet Union and Communist China.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home told the ministerial council that his ambassador in Moscow, Sir Humphrey Trevelyan, has been in close contact with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko on the situation.

Britain and the Soviet Union are co-chairmen of the Geneva conference. They had their representatives in Laos appeal to all parties for restraint.

One side effect of the SEATO meeting was an apparent warming up on French relations with Britain and the United States.

Rusk conferred with President Charles de Gaulle in what was described as a cordial atmosphere. It was the first such high level French-American meeting since De Gaulle spurned President Kennedy's offer of Polaris missiles for French submarines as a start toward a NATO nuclear force.

Lord Home saw French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville for the first time since France blocked Britain's bid for entry into the Common Market.

The British and Americans had another difficulty. Pakistan, a SEATO member, was reported taking a stand-offish attitude at the meeting because of arms aid to India by the two powers.

New Racial Display Due In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—New racial demonstrations were planned today and blind singer Al Hibbler said he would lead a prayer march in this Deep South city.

"I'm willing to go to jail," said Hibbler.

"I'm itching to go to jail," the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy told some 300 chanting Negroes who attended a rally Monday night.

Ninety-six Negroes have been arrested since demonstrations began last Wednesday. Of these, 55 have been convicted of trespassing after warning and sentenced to 180 days in jail and fined $100 each.

Cases against 41 others arrested in racial demonstrations were sent to Federal Court. They claimed their civil rights were violated in a city court trial.

The Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth, a Negro minister, told newsmen that the U.S. attorney generals office had asked integration leaders for a moratorium on their direct action fight.

"We have been under a moratorium too long," said Shuttlesworth. "We turned them down. We are here for the duration. Many of us are willing to die, if necessary, on the streets of Birmingham."

Pope To Issue Writ Devoted to Peace

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII signed a new encyclical on peace today in an unusual ceremony emphasizing the importance of the pontiff attached to his pronouncement.

Titled "Pacem in Terris" or "Peace on Earth," the letter is a broad appeal for world peace. It will be made public Wednesday.

It is the first papal encyclical devoted exclusively to the theme of peace.

The Pope ceremonially signed five specially printed copies of the encyclical in his private library. Four of the copies will go into the Vatican archives. The fifth will remain in the Pope's personal files.

The executive committee of the Historical Society explained that income from concession sales is used to buy more items and to maintain all state memorials including those owned by the state.

In addition to performing concession operations as a service to the visitors at state memorials, income in the Society's private operating fund is used to acquire historical collections and manuscripts, the officers explained.

The Society was incorporated as a non-profit corporation in 1885. It maintains 59 historical properties through the state and its books are audited annually with reports going to various state officials.

Litter Hides Organ Valued at $20,000

VENEZIA, Ill. (AP)—Parishioners of the San Salvatore Lutheran church were undecided whether to buy a new organ or repair the old one which had been in the church balcony for 98 years.

They hired Richard Hosier, an organ builder, to tell them what to do.

Hosier dismantled the instrument. He found the skeletons of four birds, rats of dead insects and a first-rate organ, hand-crafted 125 years ago in Germany and containing 891 wooden pipes.

Hosier estimated the organ was worth at least $20,000. The parishioners have decided to keep it.

policy, a policy of pressure and dictate of which nuclear weapons are proclaimed as the main element and core."

The Soviet government called on the U.S. government to help resolve the paramount international problems and, by joint effort, to halt the race in nuclear-rocket armaments, Tass said.

This call was also made in similar notes Gromyko handed to the British ambassador and the West German charge d'affaires Monday.

Copies were forwarded to the governments of other NATO nations.

The 5,000-word text revived a Soviet call for a nonaggression pact between NATO and the Russian-led Warsaw Pact, suggesting that this should be the first step in measures to ease international tension.

The note was shot through with

Pearson Lacks Clear Majority In Parliament

TORONTO (AP) — Liberals triumphed in the Canadian election, emerging again as the leading political party, and Lester B. Pearson had the prime ministry almost in his grasp today.

Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker, in effect repudiated by the voters, was holding on to the job for the time being and possibly will keep it for weeks. But it appeared only a matter of time before he would have to vacate the top Canadian job of government. The voters' view toward what many regard as the Diefenbaker regime's ineffectiveness was shown by the fact that six of his Cabinet ministers lost their parliamentary seats in Monday's election.

At the last count of the voting results, the Liberals had 127 seats in the House of Commons, six less than the 133 that means majority command over all opposition parties.

The Conservatives had 95 seats, the Social Credit party 24 and the New Democrats 17.

Two seats remained in doubt. Thus the Liberals appeared to have scant chance of getting a clearcut majority unless they could pull some magic in close races out of the returns from servicemen which are to be announced next weekend.

By the usual procedure, the party gaining most seats names the prime minister. That would put Pearson, at 65, in line to take over the leadership he failed to win in two previous attempts, 1958 and 1962.

Diefenbaker said he will confer with his Cabinet but indicated he intends to take advantage of his right to hold on until the new Parliament lines up by parties, perhaps in six weeks.

A call for Diefenbaker's retirement as leader of the Conservative party came from Douglas Harkness, who quit as Diefenbaker's defense minister in this winter's dispute over acquisition of nuclear warheads.

Harkness, a Conservative who has won seven times in his Alberta district, said "After this election it is apparent a leadership convention will be in order."

Further opposition to Diefenbaker within the party is bound to come as a result of Monday's

Reaching 100th Birthday Said No Reason To Cheer

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Reaching the century mark in age usually is a source of pride, but not so for John Murphy, who, according to official records, will observe his 100th birthday today.

"I still think I'm only 98 no matter what other people say," Murphy told a reporter.

He credits "hard work, I guess" for his long life, but candidly admits he didn't like any of his many jobs.

Soviets See NATO Nuclear Plan Bringing Rocket Race

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has told the United States the creation of a multinational nuclear force under NATO will "unleash a race in rocket - nuclear armaments," Tass said today.

The statement was made in a Soviet government note to the United States handed by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko to the U.S. ambassador in Moscow Monday.

It described the NATO nuclear force plan as an attempt to give the Bundeswehr — West German army—and the "armed forces of other countries access to nuclear-rocket weapons, to extend preparations for thermonuclear war and to unleash a race in nuclear-rocket armaments transcending all national and geographic boundaries."

The Soviet government declared that the plan is "a modern expression of the position of strength

accusations that the whole NATO nuclear operation, centering now on the idea of an international fleet, was intended to put nuclear weapons in the hands of Bonn "militarists and revenge seekers."

The protest was coupled with a warning that the Soviet government would take necessary countermeasures.

"With the realization of the plans of the NATO leaders, nuclear weapons with their inevitable corollary—the war danger—would spread over our planet as oil spreads over water."

"The extension of the area from which a nuclear attack could be launched would naturally extend the sphere of application of retaliatory measures inevitable in such cases. May no one seek a threat in this statement of the Soviet government. All this is nearly copy book truth, a simple acknowledgment of what can be precisely assessed today."

Catholic Youth Annual Meet Is Scheduled

The annual convention of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Youth will be held April 20 and 21 at the Youth Center on the Ohio Exposition Grounds, Columbus.

High school seniors and young adults from 23 counties will attend the two-day meet.

The theme of the convention is "Your Salvation is Your Concern" which was taken from a letter written to the youth by Bishop Clarence G. Isenmann, Bishop of the Diocese of Columbus.

The theme of the workshops and displays is based on the convention theme. The first set of workshops is centered around the spirituality of the youth at home, at school, at work and in his leisure time. The second set of workshops will deal with the specialized apostolates.

The keynote address on Saturday afternoon will be given by Monsignor Roland T. Winel, pastor of St. Mary Parish, Lancaster, and former moderator of the Diocesan Councils of Catholic Men and Women.

Election of officers and adoption of the DCCY budget and program will highlight the business sessions.

John VanHoose, Columbus, is convention chairman. Bill Gesch, also of Columbus, is president, and the Rev. Richard F. Dodd is director.

Woman Is Fined $300 In City Court

Mrs. Floyce J. Garland, 28, of Columbus, cited into Circleville Municipal Court by Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Gene Kerns, was fined a total of $300 and sentenced to five days in jail by Judge Sterling Lamb.

Mrs. Garland was handed a $200 fine and a 30 day jail sentence with 25 days of the sentence suspended for operating a motor vehicle without a valid driver's license. She had a previous conviction on the same charge.

Judge Lamb also levied fines of $50 for littering the highway and for parking on the highway.

Carl Edward Colburn, 25, Mt. Sterling, also cited with failure to have an operator's license, and previously convicted on a similar charge was fined $200 and costs and handed a 30 day sentence with 25 days suspended.

In other municipal court traffic action Charles R. Byrne, 20, of Pompano Beach, Fla., was fined $50 and costs for speeding 100 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Chester Reese, 65, Ashville was given a $25 suspended fine and placed on probation for one year for parking on the highway.

Harry J. O'Morrow, 38, Whitehall; $50 bond forfeiture for speeding 80 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Mount Vernon Council To Get Income Tax Plan

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP)—City Council has instructed City Solicitor James Cullers to prepare a city income tax ordinance for consideration at the May 6 council meeting.

Mayor Harry Bennington has long urged the tax as "the only way out of our financial dilemma." The measure reportedly has the approval of most of the seven council members.

Bennington has recommended a 7.5 mill tax, which would produce $200,000 annually.

Courthouse To Close Friday Afternoon

The Pickaway County Courthouse will close at noon Friday in observance of Good Friday church services.

U.S. Aid 'Helping Wage Epic Battle' against Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign Aid Director David E. Bell said today U.S. military and economic aid to underdeveloped countries "is helping to wage the epic battle of our time, the battle between freedom and communism."

Bell, chief of the Agency for International Development, made the statement to the House Foreign Affairs Committee which is considering the administration's pared-down request for a $4.5-billion foreign aid budget in the coming year.

While emphasizing the continuing need for foreign aid, Bell told the committee, "I take it we are all in agreement that our programs of economic and military assistance should be designed to be self-terminating."

"The purpose of our efforts," he said, "is to help other countries set on their own feet and achieve a position in which they can sustain economic growth and, where necessary, military strength without extraordinary outside help."

Bell said that has happened in Europe since 1950, and "today the termination of the need for development loans on 'soft' terms is clearly in sight for additional countries, among them Greece, Israel, free China, Venezuela and Mexico."

He said the need for military aid to Greece and China will undoubtedly continue longer.

In other cases, Bell said, "The end is not yet in sight—but it is clearly in mind. It will take some years for countries like Korea, India, Pakistan and Turkey to achieve economic self-support—but clearly that should be their target, and ours."

Bell emphasized "what is at stake," saying: "The powerful outreach of Communist aggression—working by subversion, by infiltration, by insurgency, by whatever means an implacable will can devise, is moving in Southeast Asia, standing on the borders of India, Pakistan, Turkey, and Korea, hovering over Africa, seeking to expand its foothold in the Western Hemisphere."

Two rough spots in foreign relations—left-leaning Indonesia and the vendetta between India and Pakistan over Kashmir—have drawn repeated critical attention in the hearings.

The United States has insisted that Canada is dragging its heels on making good certain commitments for defense, including acceptance of nuclear warheads. Diefenbaker denied this. Pearson said Canada must go ahead with its commitments and then re-examine the situation.

Last June's election gave Diefenbaker only a minority in Parliament, but he commanded the House of Commons for six months with support from two minor parties, Social Credit and the New Democrats. This government was finally defeated in February when the other parties deserted him as a backlash to the nuclear issue and a widespread feeling that Diefenbaker's government was ineffective.

Gun Theft Reported

Carrie Wilburn, Route 2, Ashville, reported the theft of two guns, a 22 caliber lever action rifle and a 22 target pistol, to the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

According to Wilburn, the guns were probably taken between noon and 4 p. m. Sunday.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said Monday he felt the rather limited military assistance program for Indonesia should be continued but phased down in coming years. He acknowledged that Russia has poured $900 million worth of military assistance into Indonesia.

What Time Is It?

Travelers in the United States, long accustomed during the middle half of the year to playing the game, "What time is it?" supposedly would have this fun — or annoyance — taken from them if a law proposed by the Interstate Commerce Commission were passed.

The ICC would scrap the present four time zones (Eastern, Central, Mountain and Pacific) with their variations of daylight saving time. A new system would set up eight zones, the four familiar ones, plus one on the East Coast (Atlantic zone), and three in the Far West — the Yukon, Alaska-Hawaii and Bering zones.

Within each of these, a federal agency would designate a sub zone that, in summer, would shift to the next zone to the east.

In a report to the ICC recently, an example was offered to prove that Americans don't really know what the time is:

"The same time is observed in Richmond, Arlington and Bristol (all in Virginia) during the winter and early spring. From the last Sunday in April until May 30, Richmond time is the same as Bristol but an hour behind Arlington. From May 30 to the first Monday in September, Richmond time is the same as Arlington but an hour ahead of Bristol. From the first Monday in September to the last Sunday in October, Richmond time is the same as Bristol and an hour behind Arlington."

But the proposed ICC remedy sounds almost as complicated. So, perhaps travelers will continue to have a game to pass the time in bus depots, train stations, air terminals and service stations across the nation.

Jumping to Some Conclusions

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions—and how many do you agree with?

Medicine can sometimes do you more harm than good.

At least a third of the medicine taken by people over 35 is probably unnecessary—and represents the formation of a bad habit instead of a good one.

Instead of reaching for a headache tablet, a pep pill or a tranquilizing tablet, a portion or a lotion, they could better banish fatigue and fears from their lives by walking an hour more a day and sleeping an hour more each night.

Medicine taken as a substitute for healthy common sense is nothing but a menace.

Ten active bowlers are worth more to the country—and to themselves—than 100 sedentary baseball fans.

One of the wryest prices of middle age is that you so seldom open your mail with a warm sense of expectancy. If it isn't a bill, it's somebody trying to sell you something you don't really need or want.

I always feel sorry for a teenage girl whose mother wears a pony tail so she can look young, too.

Nothing starts the week off better than to meet a polite driver on the Monday morning bus.

Ever notice how there's always a doorman around to help you out of a cab when you're in perfect health? But where do they all hide when you're on crutches?

It is a waste of sympathy to feel sorry for yourself when the sun is out. Always save your self-pity, as you do your money, for a rainy day.

Perhaps we'd be more responsible fathers if our employers graded us periodically — and we had to take our report cards home for the kids to sign.

Whenever I see a cranky man or woman I always wonder if the real cause of their bad temper may be the fact they are wearing shoes half a size too small. Much of the tension in modern life springs from failure to buy shoes that fit properly.

I feel more uplifted standing on a hill at twilight and hearing distant church bells in a valley than I do seated in a concert hall listening to the finest symphony orchestra on earth.

There are some goals in life that can never be achieved. No matter how dearly a man loves his wife he can never quite afford to rent an apartment that has all the closet space she'd like.

The biggest single illusion in modern business is that you can get rid of a problem by sending 10 carbon copies of it to others instead of solving it yourself.

Optimism Needs Warmth

By John Chamberlain

The Kennedy Administration is talking post-mouth partly because of its genuine fears that unemployment may increase to the point of jeopardizing the Democratic chances for victory in 1964, and partly because it needs a background of pessimism to jam its linked tax cut and spending programs. But if anything were to be gained by optimism, the Administration could just as well be exploiting the "you never had it so good" theme.

Living costs (discounting such items as orange juice) have been reasonably stable; more people are working than ever before; corporate dividends did not shrink in 1962 save in specific areas such as steel; and the overall promise for the whole of 1963 could, with a little attention to the more positive economic factors, be represented in real bullish terms.

The reason for hopefulness is to be found by looking at one side of the question of automation, which is Dr. Jekyll one day and Mr. Hyde another. The devilish aspect of labor-saving equipment is that it figures to put men out of work in the future. The angelic aspect is that the manufacture of automatic devices flushes the payrolls of companies that make the capital goods and machine tools that are needed to save on labor costs. Just at the moment it is the angelic side of the coin that is turning up.

The news on the steel front, for instance, is that virtually all the big companies are installing the money-saving oxygen process. The Republic Steel Company, for example, is projecting two 230-ton capacity basic oxygen furnaces for its home city of Cleveland, and a couple of smaller oxygen converters for its operations in Warren, Ohio, and Gadsden, Alabama. By buying oxygen furnaces the steel companies save from $2 to $6 on the costs of making a ton of steel. And along with the purchase of oxygen conversion equipment, steel companies are beginning to experiment with the continuous casting process that has proved so successful in Europe. Armco plans to build a continuous casting unit in Oklahoma. McWorlth is installing similar equipment in Michigan, and U. S. Steel has developed a continuous casting process on a trial basis in South Chicago.

The first impact of this sort of thing is felt in the machine tool industry, which picked up markedly in February. Even where no big jumps in automation can be made companies can't get by with their present investment in plant. The specialty steel companies, for example, have the capacity to produce twice as much stainless steel as is now being bought.

But none of them can sit back and wait for the market to flush the mills before buying new equipment. In order to keep whatever business it already has, each specialty company is forced to work unceasingly at improving its plant. The result: more building of such items as new vacuum melting equipment and more work for the men who make the tools that make the machines that send the old machines to the scrap heap.

On the automobile front, General Motors is spending $55 million in new plant for the year. The prospects for good automobile sales are enhanced because it is now just eight years since Detroit had the biggest sales in its history. The seven million cars sold in 1955 are now nearing the end of the road in the junk pile. As they are scrapped, new cars will replace them in another great automotive surge. And to make the new cars, Detroit will need more, not less, capital investment.

In February it was announced that new investment in plant and equipment for 1963 would be $39.1 billion, a considerable improvement over the $37.3 billion that was spent in the good year of 1962. Since a movement always tends to feed on itself, the $39.1 billion figure will almost certainly have to be revised upward before 1963 is finished. The men working in the capital goods industries will use their pay to flush the consumer market, and these markets looking for better goods at cheaper costs, will feed a pressure back to the manufacturer, who, in the never-ending circuit, will continue to demand new automation.

The Kennedy Administration can't afford to stress the optimistic prospects for 1963 until it has gotten at least some of its program through Congress. But optimism, like the trailing arbutus of the springtime woods, needs only a touch of warmth to bring it to flower.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

by LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.
The distressing aftermath of a stroke, or brain hemorrhage, has been the relative incapacitation of the patient. With it has come frustration and a sense of loss of personal dignity.

Rehabilitative Medicine is one of the newest of our combined medical sciences. Its prime objective is to make the patient self-sufficient and independent.

From the Kirkpatrick Memorial Institute of Physical Medicine in Florida comes an important axiom: "Never do anything for the patient that he can do himself."

This is a loving, not punitive, principle.

At this hospital they state that 85 per cent of all patients with paralysis on one-half of the body can be taught to walk and to care for themselves. Another 10 per cent become self-sufficient, although in a wheelchair. Only 5 per cent remain completely dependent on custodial care.

At Rehabilitation Institutes all over America the teaching program for partial paralyses due to strokes is started as quickly as possible. The longer the delay, the more complicated is the psychological block of self-care and rehabilitation.

The concept that musicians are born, not made, almost has scientific proof. In London University College Hospital experimentation has been going on to prove that babies in mother's womb actually respond to sounds and music.

Musical tones were transmitted to the babies through the abdominal wall of the mother. The babies' reaction to the controlled sound was an increase of their heartbeats.

The problem that was to decide on whether the mother's heartbeat affected the babies during the experiment. The mothers' ears were therefore blocked with head sets. The babies still responded to the musical notes.

The scientific implication of this charming experiment is not yet quite clear. But it makes us wonder if the musical training for Bach or B-Bo should not start even before the basin.

How often should a child have a regular health check-up? Here is a suggested plan:

For infants up to one year, a monthly examination. For the child from one to two years, every two to three months. For a two to three-year-old, every four months is usually sufficient. From three to seven years, an examination at six-month intervals is advised. After that, your child should have a yearly examination, preferably before the start of school.

Any schedule for a routine examination must, of course, be a flexible one. It is always best to follow the advice of your own doctor.

Resurrection Proof Sought.

Editor's Note — After Hamlet talked with the ghost of his father, he said to his friend, "There are more things in heaven and earth, Horatio, than are dreamt of in your philosophy." Modern scholars, too, are interested in apparitions and spirit communications, often as possible proofs that human life continues after physical death. The Rev. Dr. Thomas S. Kepler examines psychic researches in the second of five articles taken from his book, "The Meaning and Mystery of the Resurrection."

By DR. THOMAS S. KEPLER

There are some today who find their chief proof for life after death as they delve into psychic research backing up their arguments with the new views of science regarding the nonmaterial nature of the universe.

Frederick W. H. Myers, Sir Oliver Lodge, Alexis Carrel and J.B. Rhine are four scholars different in their approaches yet all relating their thoughts to the mental nature of the universe and the validity of extrasensory perception.

Wrote Frederick W.H. Myers: "I have assumed that man is an organism informed or possessed by a soul. This view obviously involves the hypothesis that we are living in two worlds at once, a planetary life in this material world, to which the organism is intended to react; and also a cosmic life in that spiritual or metetherial world, which is the native environment of the soul."

"We gradually discovered that the accounts of apparitions at the moment of death—testifying to a supersensory communication between the dying man and the friend who sees him—led on without perceptible break to apparitions occurring after the death of the person seen, but while that death was not known to the perceiver; and thus, apparently due not to mere breeding memory, but a continued action of that departed spirit."

The researches of Sir Oliver Lodge led him to see his universe in this manner:

"I have gradually come to the view that the main realities of the Universe are not in matter at all, but in the ether in space. . . . We ask: Shall we survive? Survive what—our temporary and indirect and secondary connection with matter? You see that this question of survival. . . is what we used to call a husteron proteron — ('the cart before the horse.') The marvel is that we are associated with matter at all."

Thus Sir Oliver Lodge views man's place in the physical world as a temporary abode, while the spiritual world is his everlasting reality.

Experience of mankind has shown that the higher conceptions of the world, which lie in the realms of the poetic, the artistic and often also in the realm of the immaterial and the unseen, which is the world of the ideal.

When our spirits attain this ethereal region, no longer impressed by the realm of the senses, we shall be unshackled from our limitations of the present world. We shall then be "athome."

Dr. Alexis Carrel, a medical doctor with the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, also saw the spiritual nature of the universe where extrasensory perception is possible.

"The beauty pursued by the mystic is still richer and more indefinable than the ideal of the artist. . . . It requires an elevation of the mind toward a being who is the source of all things . . . whom the mystic calls God."

"He who wants to undertake this rough and difficult journey must renounce all the things of this world and, finally, himself. . . . His mind escapes from space and time. . . . He reaches the stage of unitive life. . . . He is in God and acts with him."

"(There is) the existence of a psychic principle capable of evolving outside the limits of our bodies. . . . Sometimes . . . personality seems ready to extend beyond physiological duration."

J.B. Rhine of Duke University in recent years in his experiments has reported instances in which persons "knew" about the deaths of loved ones before the news was given them in a conventional way.

Clairvoyance and precognition prove that mind can transcend both space and time, which possibly intimates immortality on the scientific level. According to Rhine:

"Now all that immortality means is freedom from the effects of space and time; death seems to be purely a matter of coming to a halt in the space-time universe. Therefore the conclusion that there is at least some sort of technical survival would seem to follow."

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen as well as consumers are demanding and getting more credit.

Manufacturers are carrying their customers longer and the percentage of slow-pay accounts is rising. Wholesalers report the same trend. Adding in the extension of credit to business by banks, and the total is estimated at more than $100 billion.

Manufacturers' investment in accounts receivable is put at just under $50 billion. Commercial bank loans were estimated at $42 billion last year by the Federal Reserve Board. Wholesalers' books carry at least $10 billion more. The total has doubled in the last 10 years.

Past due accounts on manufacturers' books are put at 19.7 per cent of the total extensions by the Credit Research Foundation compared with 17.2 per cent a year ago. Today's percentage is the highest since the foundation began keeping records in 1957.

To encourage prompt payment, many corporations are sweetening their discount offers for prompt payment.

But as many or more corporations are extending, willingly or not, longer terms to customers. In the keen competition of recent months businessmen have been able to shop around and demand that suppliers assume the credit burden that is involved in carrying inventories.

Gerrit J. Popma, president of Textile Banking Co., a factoring firm, says, "today many industrial firms don't know whether they're in the manufacturing or sales finance business."

The foundation reports that half of the business executives it has questioned believe that collecting bills from wholesalers and retailers will be harder in 1963 than in 1962.

Some manufacturers now are offering to deduct 5 per cent for payment within 10 days, and 4 per cent if paid in 70 days. But in some industries companies are demanding and getting as long as four to five months to pay. Ten years ago the standard terms were 30 days.

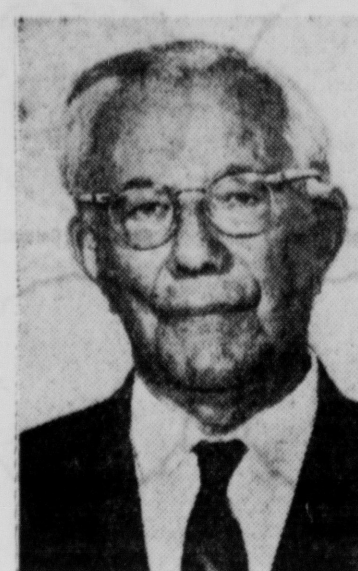

Businessmen are stepping up their credit extensions from other traditional sources. Bank loans have increased in the last decade, along with general business activity. And a boom in factoring in a number of industries is reported.

Factors estimate total volume last year came to $5 billion, up $400 million from 1961, and a 60 per cent jump from the $3 billion of 1955.

The factor buys his clients' accounts receivable, paying the manufacturer cash when the goods are shipped and assuming full credit responsibility for collecting from the customer—at a fee.

The consumer, or buyer's, market has added to the growth of business credit, according to Walter M. Kelly, president of Commercial Factors Corp. To meet the competition, Kelly says, the manufacturer must find a financing plan that lets him "offer the right product to the right customers in the right quantity at the right price and at the right time."

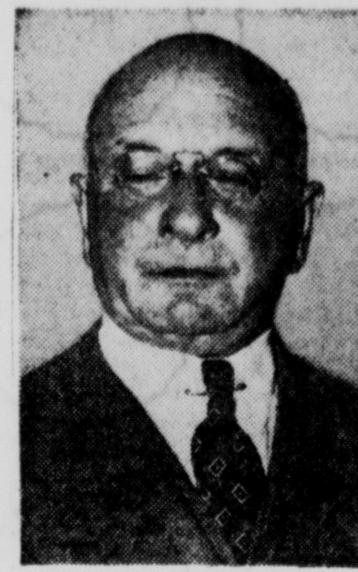

If the economy starts to move ahead faster, as hoped, both Popma and Kelly see need for a new approach to trade credit, taking some of the burden recently shouldered by manufacturers.

What Time Is It?

Travelers in the United States, long accustomed during the middle half of the year to playing the game, "What time is it?" supposedly would have this fun — or annoyance — taken from them if a law proposed by the Interstate Commerce Commission were passed.

The ICC would scrap the present four time zones (Eastern, Central, Mountain and Pacific) with their variations of daylight saving time. A new system would set up eight zones, the four familiar ones, plus one on the East Coast (Atlantic zone), and three in the Far West — the Yukon, Alaska-Hawaii and Bering zones.

Within each of these, a federal agency would designate a sub zone that, in summer, would shift to the next zone to the east.

In a report to the ICC recently, an example was offered to prove that Americans don't really know what the time is:

"The same time is observed in Richmond, Arlington and Bristol (all in Virginia) during the winter and early spring. From the last Sunday in April until May 30, Richmond time is the same as Bristol but an hour behind Arlington. From May 30 to the first Monday in September, Richmond time is the same as Arlington but an hour ahead of Bristol. From the first Monday in September to the last Sunday in October, Richmond time is the same as Bristol and an hour behind Arlington."

But the proposed ICC remedy sounds almost as complicated. So, perhaps travelers will continue to have a game to pass the time in bus depots, train stations, air terminals and service stations across the nation.

Jumping to Some Conclusions

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions—and how many do you agree with?

Medicine can sometimes do you more harm than good.

At least a third of the medicine taken by people over 35 is probably unnecessary—and represents the formation of a bad habit instead of a good one.

Instead of reaching for a headache tablet, a pep pill or a tranquilizing tablet, a portion or a lotion, they could better banish fatigue and fears from their lives by walking an hour more a day and sleeping an hour more each night.

Medicine taken as a substitute for healthy common sense is nothing but a menace.

Ten active bowlers are worth more to the country—and to themselves—than 100 sedentary baseball fans.

One of the wryest prices of middle age is that you so seldom open your mail with a warm sense of expectancy. If it isn't a bill, it's somebody trying to sell you something you don't really need or want.

I always feel sorry for a teenage girl whose mother wears a pony tail so she can look young, too.

Nothing starts the week off better than to meet a polite driver on the Monday morning bus.

Ever notice how there's always a doorman around to help you out of a cab when you're in perfect health? But where do they all hide when you're on crutches?

It is a waste of sympathy to feel sorry for yourself when the sun is out. Always save your self-pity, as you do your money, for a rainy day.

Perhaps we'd be more responsible fathers if our employers graded us periodically — and we had to take our report cards home for the kids to sign.

Whenever I see a cranky man or woman I always wonder if the real cause of their bad temper may be the fact they are wearing shoes half a size too small. Much of the tension in modern life springs from failure to buy shoes that fit properly.

I feel more uplifted standing on a hill at twilight and hearing distant church bells in a valley than I do seated in a concert hall listening to the finest symphony orchestra on earth.

There are some goals in life that can never be achieved. No matter how dearly a man loves his wife he can never quite afford to rent an apartment that has all the closet space she'd like.

The biggest single illusion in modern business is that you can get rid of a problem by sending 10 carbon copies of it to others instead of solving it yourself.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

by LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

The distressing aftermath of a stroke, or brain hemorrhage, has been the relative incapacitation of the patient. With it has come frustration and a sense of loss of personal dignity.

Rehabilitative Medicine is one of the newest of our combined medical sciences. Its prime objective is to make the patient self-sufficient and independent.

From the Kirkpatrick Memorial Institute of Physical Medicine in Florida comes an important axiom: "Never do anything for the patient that he can do himself."

This is a loving, not punitive, principle.

At this hospital they state that 85 per cent of all patients with paralysis on one-half of the body can be taught to walk and to care for themselves. Another 10 per cent become self-sufficient, although in a wheelchair. Only 5 per cent remain completely dependent on custodial care.

At Rehabilitation Institutes all over America the teaching program for partial paralyses due to strokes is started as quickly as possible. The longer the delay, the more complicated is the psychological block of self-care and rehabilitation.

The concept that musicians are born, not made, almost has scientific proof. In London University College Hospital experimentation has been going on to prove that babies in mother's womb actually respond to sounds and music.

Musical tones were transmitted to the babies through the abdominal wall of the mother. The babies' reaction to the controlled sound was an increase of their heartbeats.

The problem that was to decide on whether the mother's heartbeat affected the babies during the experiment. The mothers' ears were therefore blocked with head sets. The babies still responded to the musical notes.

The scientific implication of this charming experiment is not yet clear. But it makes us wonder if the musical training for Bach or B-Bop should not start even before the infant is born.

How often should a child have a regular health check-up? Here is a suggested plan:

For infants up to one year, a monthly examination. For the child from one to two years, every two to three months. For a two to three-year-old, every four months is usually sufficient. From three to six years, an examination at six-month intervals is advised. After that, your child should have a yearly examination, preferably before the start of school.

Any schedule for a routine examination must, of course, be a flexible one. It is always best to follow the advice of your own doctor.

The men working in the capital goods industries will use their pay to flush the consumer market, and these markets looking for better goods at cheaper costs, will feed a pressure back to the manufacturer, who, in the never-ending circuit, will continue to demand new automation.

The Kennedy Administration can't afford to stress the optimistic prospects for 1963 until it has gotten at least some of its program through Congress. But optimism, like the trailing arbutus of the springtime woods, needs only a touch of warmth to bring it to flower.

Resurrection Proof Sought

Editor's Note — After Hamlet talked with the ghost of his father, he said to his friend, "There are more things in heaven and earth, Horatio, than are dreamt of in your philosophy." Modern scholars, too, are interested in apparitions and spirit communications, often as possible proofs that human life continues after physical death. The Rev. Dr. Thomas S. Kepler examines psychic researches in the second of five articles taken from his book, "The Meaning and Mystery of the Resurrection."

By DR. THOMAS S. KEPLER

There are some today who find their chief proof for life after death as they delve into psychic research backing up their arguments with the new views of science regarding the nonmaterial nature of the universe.

Frederick W. H. Myers, Sir Oliver Lodge, Alexis Carrel and J.B. Rhine are four scholars different in their approaches yet all relating their thoughts to the mental nature of the universe and the validity of extrasensory perception.

Wrote Frederick W.H. Myers: "I have assumed that man is an organism informed or possessed by a soul. This view obviously involves the hypothesis that we are living in two worlds at once, a planetary life in this material world, to which the organism is intended to react; and also a cosmic life in that spiritual or metemorphic world, which is the native environment of the soul."

"We gradually discovered that the accounts of apparitions at the moment of death—testifying to a supersensory communication between the dying man and the friend who sees him—led on without perceptible break to apparitions occurring after the death of the person seen, but while that death was not known to the perceiver; and thus, apparently due not to mere brooding memory, but a continued action of that departed spirit."

The researches of Sir Oliver Lodge led him to see his universe in this manner: "I have gradually come to the view that the main realities of the Universe are not in matter at all, but in the ether in space. . . . We ask: Shall we survive? Survive what—our temporary and indirect and secondary connection with matter? You see that this question of survival . . . is what we used to call a husteron proteron — ('the cart before the horse.') The marvel is that we are associated with matter at all."

Thus Sir Oliver Lodge views man's place in the physical world as a temporary abode, while the spiritual world is his everlasting reality.

Experience of mankind has shown that the higher conceptions of the world, which lie in the realms of the poetic, the artistic and often also in the realm of the immaterial and the unseen, which is the world of the ideal.

When our spirits attain this ethereal region, no longer impressed by the realm of the senses, we shall be unshackled from our limitations of the present world. We shall then be "athome."

Dr. Alexis Carrel, a medical doctor with the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, also saw the spiritual nature of the universe where extrasensory perception is possible.

"The beauty pursued by the mystic is still richer and more indefinable than the ideal of the artist. . . . It requires an elevation of the mind toward a being who is the source of all things . . . whom the mystic calls God."

"He who wants to undertake this rough and difficult journey must renounce all the things of this world and, finally, himself . . . His mind escapes from space and time . . . He reaches the stage of unitive life . . . He is in God and acts with him."

"(There is) the existence of a psychic principle capable of evolving outside the limits of our bodies . . . Sometimes . . . personality seems ready to extend beyond physiological duration."

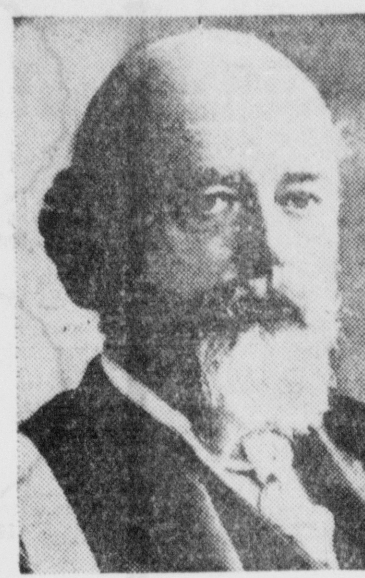

J.B. Rhine of Duke University in recent years in his experiments has reported instances in which persons "knew" about the deaths of loved ones before the news was given them in a conventional way.

Clairvoyance and precognition prove that mind can transcend both space and time, which possibly intimates immortality on the scientific level. According to Rhine:

"Now all that immortality means is freedom from the effects of space and time; death seems to be purely a matter of coming to a halt in the space-time universe. Therefore the conclusion that there is at least some sort of technical survival would seem to follow."

Gregory Peck, Ann Bancroft Are Winners of Top Oscars

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Gregory Peck, a four-time loser in the Oscar finals, and Anne Bancroft, an actress Hollywood once ignored, are winners of the movies' best actor and best actress awards for 1962.

"Lawrence of Arabia" was named the year's best film Monday night at the 35th annual Academy Awards ceremony, and a grandfather, Ed Beg'ly, and a teen-ager, Patty Duke, won best supporting actor and actress honors.

Miss Duke, who played the child Helen Keller in "The Miracle Worker," is the first juvenile ever to win an Academy Award. Shirley Temple, among others, have received honorary awards in the past.

In a glamor-packed setting at Santa Monica Civic Auditorium, the taciturn Peck confessed that he came to the show "prepared to be a graceful loser."

"I'm just a little stunned about the whole thing. It really staggered me," Peck said.

Then he pulled out a gold pocket watch from his vest.

"Harper Lee mailed it to me just this morning. She said it belonged to her father and he wore it for 60 years and she wanted me to wear it to the Academy Awards. She also said she dropped it in the grave when she was 6 years old. I was clutching it when my name was called."

Miss Lee is the author of the Pulitzer Prize-winning "To Kill a Mockingbird," based on childhood reminiscences of her father, a small-town Southern lawyer. Peck played the father in the movie.

Miss Bancroft, who portrayed Annie Sullivan, the tenacious teacher of the blind and deaf Helen Keller in "The Miracle Worker," was busy Monday night on the New York stage — where she became a star after years in B movies. Joan Crawford accepted the Oscar for her.

Early in the night, as technical awards were announced, it looked like a sweep for "Lawrence of Arabia."

It almost was. The $12-million movie of the mysterious World War I hero won seven Oscars for sound, film editing, music score, color, art direction, cinematography, best director (Britisher David Lean) and best movie.

The best song award went to "Days of Wine and Roses" from the movie of the same name. The music was written by Henry Mancini and the lyrics by Johnny Mercer.

Today in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

NEW JOB: Taking on a new job Monday, W. Averell Harriman was advised: "You have a great future."

Harriman, 71, who as undersecretary of state is taking on one more of a long line of government posts, quipped back: "I've had very great difficulty keeping a job very long. I would like your help in keeping this job for a certain period."

Harriman, who will now rank No. 3 in the State Department, was sworn in by Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, next in command below Secretary Dean Rusk.

NEW FURNISHINGS: The House Rules Committee has given its approval to a plan to buy about $3.5 million in office equipment for the new House office building under construction.

Rep. Albert Thomas, D-Tex., declared there will be "no extravagance" when it comes to purchasing the equipment. Members of Congress, he said, have always taken good care of their furniture — so good, much of it is at least 50 years old.

Based on about 350 private suites and committee rooms in the new Rayburn Building, said Thomas, the average cost of the furniture would be about $9,000 to $10,000 per suite.

DAY FROM HISTORY: Today is the 21st anniversary of a valiant but bitter day in American history—the fall of Bataan to the Japanese, on April 9, 1942.

In a special message commemorating the Americans and Filipinos who "struggled to the end with magnificent valor against overwhelming odds," President Kennedy said Monday:

"For the courage of those brave men we today express our gratitude. Their spirit sustains us still."

To mark the day, Philippines Ambassador Amefito Mutuc and Capt. Tazewell T. Shepard Jr., Kennedy's naval aide, will lay wreaths on the Tomb of the Unknowns in Arlington National Cemetery.

Common Pleas Court's Jurisdiction Clarified

CINCINNATI (AP)—Common pleas courts can determine their own jurisdiction according to a ruling of the 3rd District Ohio Court of Appeals. The court ruled Monday on the claim of a store operator that Sunday closing law charges against him could not be brought in Butler County Common Pleas Court.

Isadore Bier, manager of Rink's Bargain City in Fairfield, argued that the charge against him was a misdemeanor and could not be brought in the court unless the affidavit was signed by the county prosecutor. Bier said the affidavit charging him was signed by a private citizen.

Smog, Smoke Hurt Lung Cells

Chromosomes Break Under Irritants

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP)—Smog, the bane of cities, and cigarette smoke, the pleasure of millions, play havoc with human lung cells growing in test-tubes, a scientists finds.

Irritants in the smog make the lung cells grow and multiply as fast as a known cancer-causing chemical does, says Dr. Charles M. Pomerat of the Pasadena, Calif., Foundation for Medical Research.

Lung cells exposed to cigarette smoke show far more breaks in their chromosomes, the carriers of heredity, than cells not exposed to the smoke, he told an American Cancer Society seminar for science writers. Many agents that break chromosomes, like X-rays or chemicals, are known to produce cancers.

This test-tube or tissue culture method of growing lung cells promises a good test to analyze proposed smog remedies, Dr. Pomerat said. Comparisons can be made, for example, between samples of gas collected before or after going through a device designed to filter out automobile exhaust gases.

Dr. Pomerat's team also has found the chromosomes in living lung cells can be damaged within half a minute by exposure to the smoke from a filtered cigarette, or a king-size cigarette, he said.

More studies concerning hazards of inhaled irritants or pollutants have been carried out with mice, rats or other animals far distant in relationship to man, the test-tube living cells from humans are only a step or so away from human cells living in their normal environment in the human body, he said.

Yukon Pilot Returns to Home, Family

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (AP)—Pilot Ralph Flores, survivor of seven weeks in the frozen Yukon wilderness, was back home in San Bruno today with his wife, his six children and his literary agent.

Flores arrived at San Francisco International Airport Sunday from Salt Lake City, Utah. He was greeted by 20 relatives, newspaper and television cameramen and reporters anxious for information about the ordeal of the 42-year-old pilot and pretty Brooklyn model Helen Klaben, 21, after their plane crashed.

Waldo Marra identified himself as Ralph's agent and controlled the brief news conference.

"They have sold their story to the Saturday Evening Post," said Marra, who reported the fee was in five figures.

Flores said he and Miss Klaben weren't fighting over possession of a reported diary of the adventure. "I can't tell you anything about that," he added. "I can't tell you where it is."

Someone asked whether the model actually called him "daddy-o."

"She called me daddy," he replied.

"He was her father," added his 33-year-old wife, Teresa. "And she was his daughter. That's all."

U.S. Businessmen Abroad Are 'Ambassadors'

NEW YORK (AP)—Leading American firms are helping their government make unofficial ambassadors of U.S. businessmen stationed overseas.

The idea is that corporate executives reach influential foreigners that the official envoys may never see. And perhaps businessmen can explain U.S. government policies and aims to other businessmen in a more bellivable fashion.

So, 458 American firms are forwarding official documents and statements to about 8,000 top level employees scattered in all parts of the world.

One chief executive describes the reaction of his company as "one of surprise, gratification and enthusiasm."

The United States Information Agency sends material directly to the top man in the corporate headquarters here. He orders copies of what he thinks his men should see and distributes them.

When the boss sends a statement on to overseas executives—so the thinking goes — it commands attention it wouldn't if originating in U.S. consulate offices on the site. In that respect the busy executive overseas behaves just as he did at home—pays first attention to what's on the boss's mind.

Some of the largest companies and the number of employees who receive policy information from time to time as listed by the USIA: General Motors 60, Ford 40, Chrysler 160, Jersey Standard Oil 110, Texaco 22, Socony Mobil 12, Gulf Oil 7, U.S. Steel 10 and Western Electric 75.

The documents and statements concern issues that are topics of conversation in the foreign communities as well as here. They are chosen to explain the American point of view. The informed American talking to his opposite number in the overseas community thus can make sense, scotch false rumors, and maybe make friends and influence people. Often the outflow concerns regional policies—and some times it changes just as the situations do.

For example, shortly after the Alliance for Progress treaty was signed USIA began supplying files to be used by American businessmen stationed in Latin America. About 2,400 of them received the explanations of Alliance objectives as forwarded by the home offices of 265 companies.

This has been discontinued—not, the agency says, because of any difficulties the alliance may have run into, but because the Pan American Union has begun publishing rapid and detailed information on the subject.

One business executive has assured the agency that the policy in general is "a long step toward a better world wide understanding of American foreign policy objectives."

And the agency's director, Edward R. Murrow, thinks the business cooperation is very worthwhile.

"American businessmen overseas," he points out, "have their own circles of associations, friends, acquaintances and contacts. These are usually quite different from those of the official American community. Because of the nature of business abroad, these different associates are frequently people of very considerable influence and importance."

"When the American businessman speaks, his associates listen. If he is informed and his knowledge accurate, he can be a very helpful influence on his foreign friends."

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, April 9, the 99th day of 1963. There are 266 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1388, the Swiss defeated the Austrians in the Battle of Nafels, Switzerland. The following year the Hapsburgs renounced all feudal claims over the Swiss Cantons.

On this day: In 1682, French explorer LaSalle named Louisiana for King Louis XIV.

In 1799, the English chemist, Sir Humphrey Davy, discovered that humans could breathe pure nitrous oxide.

In 1865, Gen. Robert E. Lee surrendered his Confederate Army to Union Gen. Ulysses Grant at Appomattox Court House, Va., virtually ending the War between the States.

In 1930, the first two-way demonstration of television was staged in New York City.

In 1947, Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler suspended Brooklyn Dodger Manager Leo Durocher for one year.

Today's birthday: Orchestra conductor Antal Dorati is 57. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut is 43.

Thought for today: There are some defeats more triumphant than victories—Michel deMontaigne.

Steel Bookings Run Beyond 'Stockpiling'

CLEVELAND (AP)—"Stockpiling is a big factor in the steel market's upsurge, but it's not big enough to explain why some mills are looking orders at 140 per cent of capacity," Steel Magazine said today in its weekly market review.

The journal of metalworking estimated second-quarter steel production would be at least 17 per cent more than that of the first quarter, unless the United Steelworkers indicate soon they do not intend to reopen their contracts May 1.

Increasing consumer demands alone will require about 10 per cent more steelmaking than in the first quarter, Steel said, or 31 million ingot tons against 26.7 million in January, February and March.

"If a strike threat persists in June," the magazine continued, production that month could send the second quarter output as high as 33 million tons.

Improved business conditions in many steel-consuming industries and seasonal upturns in structural, tin plate, merchant wire and some other products are contributing to the brisker sales, along with strike hedging, Steel said.

Output this week was expected to exceed last week's estimated 2,425,000 tons. If it does, it will be the 11th consecutive rise in ingot production.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A number of light showers fell over Ohio during the night, but by daybreak the weather was cloudy, cool and dry over all sections.

Some thunder and lightning was observed in connection with the showers from Mansfield to the Ohio River.

The morning weather map shows high pressure continuing to build over central Canada, resulting in northerly winds across the Great Lakes and Ohio. These northerly winds are expected to prevail today and Wednesday.

In general, temperatures will continue below normal, and dry weather is indicated for 24 to 48 hours.

Temperatures early today ranged from 34 at Toledo to 43 at Marietta. Cincinnati had 42, Columbus 40 and Cleveland 39.

Trio Sought In $20,000 Bank Holdup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Police combed Columbus' West Side late Monday and Monday night but found no trace of three men who fled from a branch bank with an estimated $20,000 in holdup money.

The robbery Monday afternoon occurred at a branch of the Ohio National Bank in the Great Western Shopping Center. Officers said the robbers all wore tan coats which they later discarded in a department store.

A white car was abandoned a short distance from the bank after it crashed into a curb. The windshield was broken, indicating one of the occupants struck his head in the accident, police said. The car had been stolen.

Witnesses said the three men entered the bank through a rear door and that one of them stood at the door with his hand in his pocket while the other shoved aside tellers and emptied the cash drawers.

Several customers were held at bay during the robbery.

Going to Mail Box Is Big Event at the Bob Evans Farm

If you are driving toward Gallipolis on U.S. Route 35 just outside of Rio Grande, you drive right through the Bob Evans Farm. At the lane entrance you will see the familiar Bob Evans Farm mailbox.

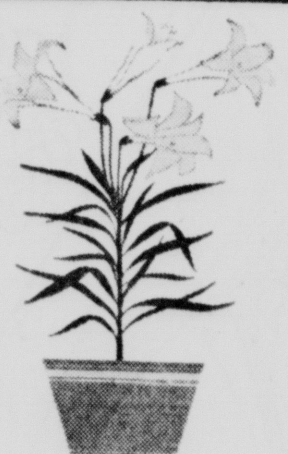

Bob likes to bring in the mail himself because it often is filled with letters from folks all over Ohio who regularly use Bob Evans Farms Sausage.

Last fall, Bob put out a "Country Cookbook". It contained several dozen favorite farm recipes for cooking sausage, plain and fancy. Thousands of these recipe books have been distributed.

Mail is now especially heavy at the 820-acre farm in the southern Ohio hills where all Bob Evans Farms Sausage is made, or on a second farm near Xenia, Ohio. Letters come mostly from people sending in their own favorite recipes for preparing Bob Evans Farms Sausage.

If you do not have a "Country Cookbook" and want one, send a dime to cover handling and mailing to: Bob Evans, Box 11, Gallipolis, Ohio.

Gregory Peck, Ann Bancroft Are Winners of Top Oscars

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Gregory Peck, a four-time loser in the Oscar finals, and Anne Bancroft, an actress Hollywood once ignored, are winners of the movies best actor and best actress awards for 1962.

"Lawrence of Arabia" was named the year's best film Monday night at the 35th annual Academy Awards ceremony, and a grandfather, Ed Begley, and a teenager, Patty Duke, won best supporting actor and actress honors.

Miss Duke, who played the child Helen Keller in "The Miracle Worker," is the first juvenile ever to win an Academy Award. Shirley Temple, among others, have received honorary awards in the past.

In a glamor-packed setting at Santa Monica Civic Auditorium, the taciturn Peck confessed that he came to the show "prepared to be a graceful loser."

"I'm just a little stunned about the whole thing. It really staggered me," Peck said.

Then he pulled out a gold pocket watch from his vest.

"Harper Lee mailed it to me just this morning. She said it belonged to her father and he wore it for 60 years and she wanted me to wear it to the Academy Awards. She also said she dropped it in the grave when she was 6 years old. I was clutching it when my name was called."

Miss Lee is the author of the Pulitzer Prize-winning "To Kill a Mockingbird," based on childhood reminiscences of her father, a small-town Southern lawyer. Peck played the father in the movie.

Miss Bancroft, who portrayed Annie Sullivan, the tenacious teacher of the blind and deaf Helen Keller in "The Miracle Worker," was busy Monday night on the New York stage — where she became a star after years in B movies. Joan Crawford accepted the Oscar for her.

Early in the night, as technical awards were announced, it looked like a sweep for "Lawrence of Arabia."

It almost was. The $12-million movie of the mysterious World War I hero won seven Oscars for sound, film editing, music score, color, art direction, cinematography, best director (Britisher David Lean) and best movie.

The best song award went to "Days of Wine and Roses" from the movie of the same name. The music was written by Henry Mancini and the lyrics by Johnny Mercer.

Today in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

NEW JOB: Taking on a new job Monday, W. Averell Harriman was advised: "You have a great future."

Harriman, 71, who as undersecretary of state is taking on one more of a long line of government posts, quipped back: "I've had very great difficulty keeping a job very long. I would like your help in keeping this job for a certain period."

Harriman, who will now rank No. 3 in the State Department, was sworn in by Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, next in command below Secretary Dean Rusk.

NEW FURNISHINGS: The House Rules Committee has given

its approval to a plan to buy about $3.5 million in office equipment for the new House office building under construction.

Rep. Albert Thomas, D-Tex., declared there will be "no extravagance" when it comes to purchasing the equipment. Members of Congress, he said, have always taken good care of their furniture — so good, much of it is at least 50 years old.

Based on about 350 private suites and committee rooms in the new Rayburn Building, said Thomas, the average cost of the furniture would be about $9,000 to $10,000 per suite.

DAY FROM HISTORY: Today is the 21st anniversary of a valiant but bitter day in American history—the fall of Bataan to the Japanese, on April 9, 1942.

In a special message commemorating the Americans and Filipinos who "struggled to the end with magnificent valor against overwhelming odds," President Kennedy said Monday:

"For the courage of those brave men we today express our gratitude. Their spirit sustains us still."

To mark the day, Philippines Ambassador Amelito Mutuc and Capt. Tazewell T. Shepard Jr., Kennedy's naval aide, will lay wreaths on the Tomb of the Unknowns in Arlington National Cemetery.

Common Pleas Court's Jurisdiction Clarified

CINCINNATI (AP)—Common pleas courts can determine their own jurisdiction according to a ruling of the 3rd District Ohio Court of Appeals. The court ruled Monday on the claim of a store operator that Sunday closing law charges against him could not be brought in Butler County Common Pleas Court.

Isadore Bier, manager of Rink's Bargain City in Fairfield, argued that the charge against him was a misdemeanor and could not be brought in the court unless the affidavit was signed by the county prosecutor. Bier said the affidavit charging him was signed by a private citizen.

Smog, Smoke Hurt Lung Cells

Chromosomes Break Under Irritants

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP)—Smog, the bane of cities, and cigarette smoke, the pleasure of millions, play havoc with human lung cells growing in test-tubes, a scientists finds.

Irritants in the smog make the lung cells grow and multiply as fast as a known cancer-causing chemical does, says Dr. Charles M. Pomerat of the Pasadena, Calif., Foundation for Medical Research.

Lung cells exposed to cigarette smoke show far more breaks in their chromosomes, the carriers of heredity, than cells not exposed to the smoke, he told an American Cancer Society seminar for science writers. Many agents that break chromosomes, like X-rays or chemicals, are known to produce cancers.

This test-tube or tissue culture method of growing lung cells promises a good test to analyze proposed smog remedies, Dr. Pomerat said. Comparisons can be made, for example, between samples of gas collected before or after going through a device designed to filter out automobile exhaust gases.

Dr. Pomerat's team also has found the chromosomes in living lung cells can be damaged within half a minute by exposure to the smoke from a filtered cigarette, or a king-size cigarette, he said.

More studies concerning hazards of inhaled irritants or pollutants have been carried out with mice, rats or other animals far distant in relationship to man, the test-tube living cells from humans are only a step or so away from human cells living in their normal environment in the human body, he said.

Yukon Pilot Returns to Home, Family

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (AP)—Pilot Ralph Flores, survivor of seven weeks in the frozen Yukon wilderness, was back home in San Bruno today with his wife, his six children and his literary agent.

Flores arrived at San Francisco International Airport Sunday from Salt Lake City, Utah. He was greeted by 20 relatives, newspaper and television cameramen and reporters anxious for information about the ordeal of the 42-year-old pilot and pretty Brooklyn model Helen Klaben, 21, after their plane crashed.

Waldo Marra identified himself as Ralph's agent and controlled the brief news conference.

"They have sold their story to the Saturday Evening Post," said Marra, who reported the fee was in five figures.

Flores said he and Miss Klaben weren't fighting over possession of a reported diary of the adventure. "I can't tell you anything about that," he added. "I can't tell you where it is."

Someone asked whether the model actually called him "daddy-o."

"She called me daddy," he replied.

"He was her father," added his 33-year-old wife, Teresa. "And she was his daughter. That's all."

U.S. Businessmen Abroad Are 'Ambassadors'

NEW YORK (AP)—Leading American firms are helping their government make unofficial ambassadors of U.S. businessmen stationed overseas.

The idea is that corporate executives reach influential foreigners that the official envoys may never see. And perhaps businessmen can explain U.S. government policies and aims to other businessmen in a more bell vable fashion.

So, 458 American firms are forwarding official documents and statements to about 8,000 top level employees scattered in all parts of the world.

One chief executive describes the reaction of his company as "one of surprise, gratification and enthusiasm."

The United States Information Agency sends material directly to the top man in the corporate headquarters here. He orders copies of what he thinks his men should see and distributes them.

When the boss sends a statement on to overseas executives—so the thinking goes—it commands attention it wouldn't if originating in U.S. consulate offices on the site. In that respect the busy executive overseas behaves just as he did at home—pays first attention to what's on the boss's mind.

Some of the largest companies and the number of employees who receive policy information from time to time as listed by the USIA: General Motors 60, Ford 40, Chrysler 160, Jersey Standard Oil 110, Texaco 22, Socony Mobil 12, Gulf Oil 7, U.S. Steel 10 and Western Electric 75.

The documents and statements concern issues that are topics of conversation in the foreign communities as well as here. They are chosen to explain the American point of view. The informed American talking to his opposite number in the overseas community thus can make sense, scotch false rumors, and maybe make friends and influence people.

Often the outflow concerns regional policies—and some times it changes just as the situations do.

For example, shortly after the Alliance for Progress treaty was signed USIA began supplying files to be used by American businessmen stationed in Latin America. About 2,400 of them received the explanations of Alliance objectives as forwarded by the home offices of 265 companies.

This has been discontinued—not, the agency says, because of any difficulties the alliance may have run into, but because the Pan American Union has begun publishing rapid and detailed information on the subject.

One business executive has assured the agency that the policy in general is "a long step toward a better world wide understanding of American foreign policy objectives."

And the agency's director, Edward R. Murrow, thinks the business cooperation is very worthwhile.

"American businessmen overseas," he points out, "have their own circles of associations, friends, acquaintances and contacts. These are usually quite different from those of the official American community. Because of the nature of business abroad, these different associates are frequently people of very considerable influence and importance."

"When the American businessman speaks, his associates listen. If he is informed and his knowledge accurate, he can be a very helpful influence on his foreign friends."

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, April 9, the 99th day of 1963. There are 266 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1388, the Swiss defeated the Austrians in the Battle of Nafels, Switzerland. The following year the Hapsburgs renounced all feudal claims over the Swiss Cantons.

On this day:

In 1682, French explorer La Salle named Louisiana for King Louis XIV.

In 1799, the English chemist, Sir Humphrey Davy, discovered that humans could breathe pure nitrous oxide.

In 1865, Gen. Robert E. Lee surrendered his Confederate Army to Union Gen. Ulysses Grant at Appomattox Court House, Va., virtually ending the War between the States.

In 1930, the first two-way demonstration of television was staged in New York City.

In 1947, Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler suspended Brooklyn Dodger Manager Leo Durocher for one year.

Today's birthday:

Orchestra conductor Antal Dorati is 57. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut is 43.

Thought for today:

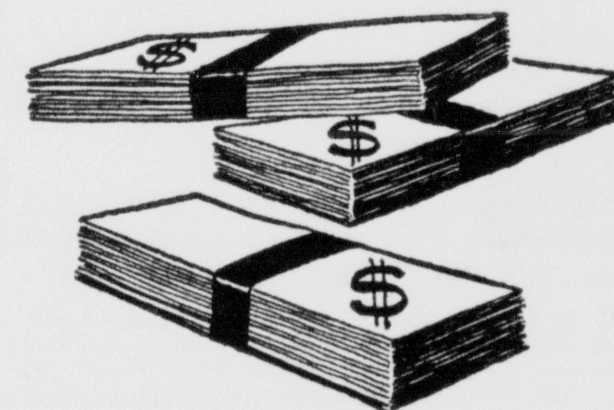

There are some defeats more triumphant than victories—Michel de Montaigne.

Fairfield Countian, 78, Is Killed in Collision

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—Two cars collided on Ohio 188 Monday, killing one of the drivers and injuring two men in the second car.

Dead at the scene, about 17 miles northeast of here in Perry County, was James Robert Beard, 78, of Pleasantville, Fairfield County. Willard Jackson, 26, of Zanesville, the other driver, and his passenger, Richard Rucker, 25, of Mount Perry, were admitted to Fairfield-Lancaster Hospital.

Trio Sought In $20,000 Bank Holdup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Police combed Columbus' West Side late Monday and Monday night but found no trace of three men who fled from a branch bank with an estimated $20,000 in holdup money.

The robbery Monday afternoon occurred at a branch of the Ohio National Bank in the Great Western Shopping Center. Officers said the robbers all wore tan coats which they later discarded in a department store.

A white car was abandoned a short distance from the bank after it crashed into a curb. The windshield was broken, indicating one of the occupants struck his head in the accident, police said. The car had been stolen.

Witnesses said the three men entered the bank through a rear door and that one of them stood at the door with his hand in his pocket while the other shoved aside tellers and emptied the cash drawers.

Several customers were held at bay during the robbery.

Going to Mail Box Is Big Event at the Bob Evans Farm

If you are driving toward Gallipolis on U.S. Route 35 just outside of Rio Grande, you drive right through the Bob Evans Farm. At the lane entrance you will see the familiar Bob Evans Farm mailbox.

Bob likes to bring in the mail himself because it often is filled with letters from folks all over Ohio who regularly use Bob Evans Farms Sausage.

Last fall, Bob put out a "Country Cookbook." It contained several dozen favorite farm recipes for cooking sausage, plain and fancy. Thousands of these recipe books have been distributed.

Mail is now especially heavy at the 820-acre farm in the southern Ohio hills where all Bob Evans Farms Sausage is made, or on a second farm near Xenia, Ohio. Letters come mostly from people sending in their own favorite recipes for preparing Bob Evans Farms Sausage.

If you do not have a "Country Cookbook" and want one, send a dime to cover handling and mailing to: Bob Evans, Box 11, Gallipolis, Ohio.

Miss Wolfe, Mr. Dye United In Double Ring Ceremony

MR. AND MRS. REX OWEN DYE

Miss Judith Ann Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Wolfe, Chillicothe, became the bride of Mr. Rex Owen Dye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dye of Route 1, Londonderry, O., March 23 in Mt. Pleasant Presbyterian Church, Kingston.

The Rev. Robert B. Dulaney performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with vases of pom-poms and huckleberry against a background of palms, flanked by two seven-branch candelabra.

Mr. William Russell of Kingston, organist, presented several traditional wedding selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white lace over taffeta fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was caught to a crown of pearls and sequins and she carried a colonial bouquet of white feathered carnations centered with pink sweet heart roses and pink satin streamers.

Mrs. Frank Wolfe, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a street-length dress of pink organza over taffeta designed with a sweetheart neckline and three quarter length sleeves. Pink flowers held her short

First EUB Circles Meet Monday Evening

Circles No. 2 and No. 3 of First EUB Church, with leaders Mrs. Edwin Richardson and Mrs. Frank Hawkes, met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Blanche Kerns and Mrs. Polly Kerns.

Mrs. David Bond and Mrs. Robert McNeley were program leaders with the topic, "He That Hath Ears". The group took an imaginary trip to the Home Mission Fields of Kentucky, Ybor City, Florida and New Mexico. A short devotional service was held. Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. Hawkes presented a duet. Scripture and prayer were given by Mrs. McNeley.

Guides to the Red Bird Mission and Cumberland district in Kentucky was Mrs. Clarence Radcliffe and Mrs. Howard Conley. The group then enjoyed slides on Ybor City, Fla., by Mrs. David Steele who has visited there. The trip came to a close by visiting the Espanola Hospital and McCurdy School in New Mexico. Mrs. Hawkes was guide for this visit. Group singing and prayer by Mrs. Bond closed the program.

During the business session reports of standing committees were given. Program leaders and hostesses for the rest of the year were announced. A new plan of having all reading books in the church as one general library was discussed. The Christian Social Relations chairman told the group the emphasis on the first three months of the year was "Christian Home".

Each circle was given miniature aprons in which money is to be placed in the pocket and returned. A bazaar will be held this fall and articles should be started for that sale. A KYN offering, one for books and also for Youth camp was collected. Easter cards are to be sent to shut-in members.

Leaders announced the WSWs convention to be held April 24-25 in Westerville First Church. The honorable Richard Caulker from Africa will be one of the speakers.

A lunch was served to 29 members and guests by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. Phoebe Brown and Mrs. Mabel Dumm. New members were Mrs. Raymond Williams, Mrs. Kenneth Schwalbach and Miss Pat Williams.

Scioto Chapel Ladies Aid To Meet Thursday

Scioto Chapel Ladies Aid will meet 1:30 p. m. Thursday in the Robtown Parish Hall.

Hostesses will be, Mrs. Mabel Isham, Mrs. Clo Philo, Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson and Mrs. Paul Hall.

Friday company fare: salmon steaks garnished with artichoke hearts (the cooked frozen or canned variety). Stuffed eggs or stuffed tomatoes are also elegant garnishes for the fish. The tomatoes may be filled with a cooked vegetable salad.

When you are making a cake from a mix, be sure to use the size of pan specified on the package—usually a choice of pans are given. To determine the size if

A cooperative dinner was held by 24 members of The Solaqua Garden Club last Friday in the home of Mrs. L. C. Schiff, Route 23. Mrs. Turney Renick was a guest.

The meeting opened with prayer led by Mrs. Cecil Ward and The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison. Secretary and treasurer reports were read. Plans were completed for the nursery tour which will be held May 3. All members will meet at the intersection of Routes 316 and 104 at 9:30 a. m. Tentative places planned for the tour are Spring Hill Nursery, Hollandia Gardens and the garden of Mrs. John Starr, London.

Mrs. C. W. Hedges, president, discussed plans for the annual Rose Breakfast and Flower Show which will be held June 7 in the Prairie Lanes party room Circleville.

Well-Groomed Wife Proves A Good Asset

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Wife-analysis has become a big preoccupation with personnel departments, for the women men marry have much to do with their success.

It's always been so, but now the word is out in the open. One big company admits it skips over 20 per cent of its otherwise promotable men because their wives don't pass muster.

Another says that even the fiancée of a could-be executive comes in for close scrutiny. She's the yardstick by which her future husband's chances are measured.

It would seem that the ladder of success is designed for double occupancy. It's for sure that when a girl marries she can't let herself go!

Not that beauty is a necessary qualification in furthering a husband's career. It's good grooming that really counts, for grooming, or lack of it, makes that first impression and it can be a lasting one.

The woman who never neglects her grooming is the woman who's ready for an important test when it comes — and life being what is, you never know just when you may be taking a test.

As friends of a Hollywood star remark laughingly — but admiringly: "she puts on her hunting togs before she sets a mousetrap!"

Good for her! She's dressed — and properly — for every occasion. She knows she has to please her public.

How does a woman develop the good-grooming habit? By making up her mind that it matters how she looks in public, in private, all the time.

Good grooming is based on cleanliness from the skin out. A daily bath is an inflexible rule. A weekly shampoo can't be missed. Lingerie is laundered nightly along with nylons. Gloves are neat, clean and pressed. Make-up is flawless.

It's a perfect picture, one that's achieved effortlessly because when good grooming is a habit it's as easy as breathing.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren It Ain't So, Frenchman

DEAR MADEMOISELLE ABBY: I am a Frenchman visiting an American friend I met in World War II. Why do you Americans think we Frenchmen are such devils with the women? I have been married to a lovely Frenchwoman for 16 years and have never had the desire to cheat on her. I have been to parties in this country and everywhere I go women say to me, "Oh, you Frenchmen! Do you mean to say that you do not have a girl friend on the side?" Such remarks to me are not funny.

JEAN PAUL J.
you go women inquire about your infidelity, you're going to the wrong places. Many Americans are poorly informed on French culture just as many Frenchmen believe all Americans to be materialistic loud and showy. The trouble is, there is just enough truth on both sides to make generalizations believable—and annoying.

DEAR ABBY: My girl friend has been going out three and four nights a week and doesn't get home until sometimes four in the morning. She says she is "baby-sitting." I am beginning to wonder if maybe she isn't stepping out on me. I have my suspicions, but how can I be sure? We were supposed to be married next summer.

LEERY
DEAR LEERY: Do a little checking. If your girl friend isn't where she says she'll be, why don't YOU do a little "baby-sitting"—if you can find the right baby?

DEAR ABBY: When we go to a party most of the men sit around and refuse to dance. My husband is the life of the party because he's a wonderful dancer and he loves to dance. So all the women line up to dance with him. I rarely get to dance with my own husband. They all say, "Oh, you have him all the time!" They must think we dance together at home. The truth is when we go out — and then everyone else grabs him. He feels flattered that he is so popular, but don't you think he owes me a few dances? Or should I just sit and be a good sport when I am dying to dance?

WALLFLOWER
DEAR WALLFLOWER: Don't be a wallflower—be a dandy lioness. Insist that the first dance is yours, and if you find yourself sitting alone and tapping your toes, get up and "tap" the woman who is waltzing your hubby around. There's a big difference between being a good sport and a dope.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

A cooperative dinner was held by 24 members of The Solaqua Garden Club last Friday in the home of Mrs. L. C. Schiff, Route 23. Mrs. Turney Renick was a guest.

The meeting opened with prayer led by Mrs. Cecil Ward and The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison. Secretary and treasurer reports were read. Plans were completed for the nursery tour which will be held May 3. All members will meet at the intersection of Routes 316 and 104 at 9:30 a. m. Tentative places planned for the tour are Spring Hill Nursery, Hollandia Gardens and the garden of Mrs. John Starr, London.

Mrs. C. W. Hedges, president, discussed plans for the annual Rose Breakfast and Flower Show which will be held June 7 in the Prairie Lanes party room Circleville.

Well-Groomed Wife Proves A Good Asset

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Wife-analysis has become a big preoccupation with personnel departments, for the women marry have much to do with their success.

It's always been so, but now the word is out in the open.

One big company admits it skips over 20 per cent of its otherwise promotable men because their wives don't pass muster.

Another says that even the fiancée of a could-be executive comes in for close scrutiny. She's the yardstick by which her future husband's chances are measured.

It would seem that the ladder of success is designed for double occupancy. It's for sure that when a girl marries she can't let herself go!

Not that beauty is a necessary qualification in furthering a husband's career. It's good grooming that really counts, for grooming, or lack of it, makes that first impression and it can be a lasting one.

The woman who never neglects her grooming is the woman who's ready for an important test when it comes — and life being what is, you never know just when you may be taking a test.

As friends of a Hollywood star remark laughingly — but admiringly: "she puts on her hunting togs before she sets a mouse-trap!"

Good for her! She's dressed — and properly — for every occasion. She knows she has to please her public.

How does a woman develop the good-grooming habit? By making up her mind that it matters how she looks in public, in private, all the time.

Good grooming is based on cleanliness from the skin out. A daily bath is an inflexible rule. A weekly shampoo can't be missed. Lingerie is laundered nightly along with nylons. Gloves are snowy-white. Clothes are neat, clean and pressed. Make-up is flawless.

It's a perfect picture, one that's achieved effortlessly because when good grooming is a habit it's as easy as breathing.

Mrs. Hedges appointed Mrs. Millard Barch, Mrs. Cecil Ward, Mrs. Charles Huston and Mrs. Harry Trump as the nominating committee to select new officers for 1963-64.

Mrs. Benjamin Vause and Mrs. Harry Trump won door prizes given in conjunction with a sales party sponsored by the club. Recipients of mystery sister gifts were Mrs. Lee Downs, Mrs. Frank Grice, Mrs. Harry Trump, Mrs. Cecil Ward, Mrs. Henry Hansen, Mrs. Alfred Cook, Mrs. Ben Walker and Mrs. Russell Perill. A card was signed by all present to be forwarded to Mrs. Trimble Parker, Chillicothe.

Miss Gladys Vause was assisting hostess.

Dear Abby: It Ain't So, Frenchman

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR MADEMOISELLE AB- BY: I am a Frenchman visiting an American friend I met in World War II. Why do you Americans think we Frenchmen are such devils with the women? I have been married to a lovely Frenchwoman for 16 years and have never had the desire to cheat on her. I have been to parties in this country and everywhere I go women say to me, "Oh, you Frenchmen! Do you mean to say that you do not have a girl friend on the side?" Such remarks to me are not funny.

JEAN PAUL J.
DEAR J.P.: If "everywhere" you go women inquire about your infidelity, you're going to the wrong places. Many Americans are poorly informed on French culture just as many Frenchmen believe all Americans to be materialistic and showy. The trouble is, there is just enough truth on both sides to make generalizations believable—and annoying.

DEAR ABBY: My girl friend has been going out three and four nights a week and doesn't get home until sometimes four in the morning. She says she is "baby-sitting." I am beginning to wonder if maybe she isn't stepping out on me. I have my suspicions, but how can I be sure? We are supposed to be married next summer.

LEERY
DEAR LEERY: Do a little checking. If your girl friend isn't where she says she'll be, why don't YOU do a little "baby-sitting" — if you can find the right baby?

DEAR ABBY: When we go to a party most of the men sit around and refuse to dance. My husband is the life of the party because he's a wonderful dancer and he loves to dance. So all the women line up

Sorority Schedules Session Tomorrow

Mrs. Roselyn Eccard will be hostess for the meeting 8 p. m. tomorrow of Beta Kappa Chapter of Sigma Phi Gamma Sorority.

Jaycee Wives To Meet

Jaycee Wives will meet 7:45 p. m. today in the office of Dr. Ray Carroll, 121 N. Pickaway St.

Van Camp Preps 11 Harness Horses for Summer Circuit

By COL. NED GROOM

With warmer weather and a track rated good, workout miles at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds oval in 2.25 were not unusual, as trainers readied their stables for the annual spring matinee April 21.

Probably the busiest man at the local raceway in Jack Betts, trainer for the George Van Camp Stable, with 11 head in his charge.

Heading this group, no doubt, is Virgins Worthy, a 4-year-old trotter by Worthy Bay and out of Van Camp's good brood mare Virgilina Van. Van Camp selected this horse to drive himself and did a really great job.

Racing mostly in the Ohio Colt Stakes he took a record of 2:05.4, winning 13 or 21 starts. This was remarkable achievement in as much as he faced the toughest competition all year.

Winning his first two out of three starts at Scioto Downs he also took the measure of Top Pro, one of the best three-year-old trotters in Ohio, at the Xenia track. Betts has worked him in 2:20 this spring.

Cheeta Can, a 4-year-old pacer by Florican and out of Cheeta Goose, also did a bang up job. Betts raced him mostly in the Ohio Home Talent Stakes where he did a creditable job, winning seven races.

He is liberally staked again this year and from the way he is training should make the grade.

Betts has worked him in 2:18 with a last quarter in 32 seconds very comfortably.

The star 3-year-old pacer owned by Van Camp is Dancing Cheeta by Scottish Pence and out of Cheeta Scott. She won two races early at Scioto Downs and there after racing in the Ohio Colt events she finished first or second in 16 starts.

I'm It, the lone 5-year-old in the stable, seems to get better and better. In fine physical condition this should be her best year.

At two she took a record of 1:59.4 at Lexington and won at Circleville in 2:06.2 in the two-year-old stake.

She holds a three year old track record at Scioto Downs in 2:00.3 and won at the Roosevelt Raceway in 2:05.2, beating a high class field of pacers.

Steamin Vo, a 3-year-old trotter has improved, since he was troubled with splints last year and did not get to the races. He is a finely bred individual and Van Camp is watching him closely.

Virgins Queen, a 2-year-old full sister to Virgins Worthy is training on the pace and seems to take to the hoppers like an older horse.

Steamin Song, a 3-year-old filly is no doubt the best young prospect being trained by Betts. She worked a mile in 2:25 last week and seemed to do it easily.

Virgie's Queen, 2, by Faber Hanover has been in 2:35 as has Janie's Orphan Boy, 2, by Steamin Demon and Easterday, a 2-year-old by Wayblower.

Betts has been going easy with his two-year-olds since they will not start until late in July when they will go for the money in the Ohio Colt events.

Darby Trojans Defeat Jackson In 3-1 Game

Darby defeated visiting Jackson 3-1 yesterday to win their first start in Pickaway County League competition.

The Trojans had an earlier scheduled game with Monroe called because of excessively cold weather.

David Rowland was credited with the win, pitching seven innings, fanning ten and walking one. Jackson batters touched the Trojan hurler for three singles.

Ed Martindale went the route for the losers, allowing four hits, whiffing nine, walking one and hitting one batter with a pitched ball.

DARBY's runs came in the first and second inning.

Vincent was hit by a pitched ball to start the two run third. Successive singles by Darrel Caudill and Danny Bowen loaded the bases and an error by Jackson allowed two runs to score.

In the second Vincent singled in Rowland who had walked.

Jackson's lone counter came in the final inning with two away. Dickie Overly pegged a single and then stole second, coming home on Clark Maughmer's hit.

Jackson is winless in the county league.

The next tilt for the Wildcats is Thursday when they host league leading Monroe. Darby plays at Logan Elm the same night.

Deer Thinlies Win First Meet

Williamsport won a triangular track meet yesterday, taking nine first and scoring a total of 73 1/2 points.

Laurelville was second with 49 5/8 while Darby, entering only three contestants tallied only 4 1/6 points.

Bruce Willis paced the Deer thinclads with 12 1/4 points, Byron Rose scored 11 points and Rick Pond tallied ten.

Ash was high point man for the meet, taking first in the discus, the shot put and the 100-yard dash.

A cold rain began as the running events started. Tomorrow the Deers go to Amanda for a meet.

Stan The Man Has Desire To Play in Another Series

NEW YORK (AP)—What's left, Stan Musial? You've accomplished practically everything that can be accomplished in baseball. So what are you trying to prove?

The man who has become a legend in his lifetime actually appeared embarrassed by the questions. He looked around at his teammates, many of them not even born when he first donned a St. Louis Cardinal uniform and strove to find the right words.

"You probably won't believe it," said Stan, the 42-year-old m a s, "but I still get a big kick out of being in uniform. I still have that desire."

Then, as if fearing this explanation might sound a bit sophomoric, Musial added sort of defensively: "You've got to have desire to play, particularly when you get older."

Stanley looked fit and trim in his 22nd annual issue of the Cardinal uniform as he worked out at the Polo Grounds in preparation for today's opener against the New York Mets.

"Opening day is always exciting," he mused. "This is my 21st or 22nd opener and I never fail to get a thrill on opening day. It's something I look forward to each spring. And believe me, I look forward to this season opener with as much anticipation as I did in my first one more than 20 years ago."

Stan (The Man) said he weighed 180 pounds, the same weight with which he finished the 1962 season, and that he felt as well as he did last year when he played 135 games and batted .330.

With seven batting titles, three most valuable player awards, a lifetime 3,544 hits and a .330 batting average to his credit, what did this remarkable athlete still want in baseball?

"I want to play in another World Series," was the prompt reply.

Mississippi Wins Small College Laurels

NEW YORK (AP)—Earl Glass, a 6-foot senior from Mississippi Industrial, was the small college basketball scoring champion for the 1962-63 season with the second highest average in history, according to figures released today by the NAA service bureau.

Glass averaged 42.9 points for 19 games, a pace bettered only by the 46.5 posted by Bevo Francis of Rio Grande in 1953-54. The only other 40-point scorer in college history was Frank Selvy of Furman, who hit at a 41.7 clip in 1953-54.

Ticket Scalpers Due In Cincinnati Court

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two men who tried to make their investments in the Cincinnati Reds baseball team pay off have a date in Police Court today.

They are Howard Hudson, 28, Dayton, and William Wilson 34, Middletown. Both were charged with ticket scalping at the National League season-opener Monday.

Police said Hudson, who told them he was "only trying to make beer money," sold detectives two $4 tickets for $5 apiece. Wilson was charged with selling four $3.75 tickets for $20.

Ninowski Joins Ryan In Inking Browns' Pact

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jim Ninowski, who started the season at quarterback for the Cleveland Browns last year, has signed his 1963 contract.

Ninowski and Frank Ryan, who took over the passing chores in mid-season after Ninowski was injured, are the only two members of the 1963 Browns so far to sign contracts.

Jim Nance, 220-pound Syracuse posted an 8-0 record as a heavy weight wrestler this winter.

Indian Babies Await Baptism

Rookie-Studded Tribe To Meet Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbetts must have had a little prayer on his lips today as he sent his "babies" to do battle in the opening game of the Indians' 1963 season.

A rookie-studded lineup—one of the youngest starting lineups in Tribe history—goes against the Minnesota Twins, which fields a team little changed from the squad that developed into a pennant contender last year.

The average age of the Cleveland starters is 26, and the old man is Woodie Held, 31. There are five new faces, and all five are 25 or under.

One of the youngsters whom Tebbetts calls his babies just joined the Tribe last week and played in only two exhibition games with his teammates.

That is Ellis Burton, acquired from the Houston Colts, who got the nod over veteran Willie Kirkland for the right field spot.

Rookies Vic Davalillo, Tony Martinez and Max Alvis have been touted as having great potential. If they get off to a good start this year it will be a big help for them, Tebbetts remarked.

"It can carry them all the way through the way it did for (Rich) Rollins last year."

Rollins, of Parma, Ohio, a Cleveland suburb, got off to a flying start last year, was the Twins' top batter with a .298 average and won all-star and sophomore-of-the-year honors. He was left off today's lineup because of a broken jaw and is expected to be out three or four days.

What Tebbetts is attempting this year is the same thing that worked for Sam Mele, Minnesota manager last year. Mele went with rookies Rollins and Bernie Allen of East Liverpool, Ohio. The rookies came through, and the Twins finished a surprising second in the league.

For Cleveland hurler Jim (Mudcat) Grant, today gave him his first time to start an opener, which had been one of his goals in baseball.

Mele gave the opening assignment to Camilo Pascual, a game winner last year.

Some 30,000 fans were expected at Metropolitan Stadium in suburban Bloomington. The forecast was cool and cloudy weather with chance of light rain.

Jerry Zeman, a right tackle from Morgan, Pa., and Ted Christy, fullback from Phoenix, will captain Arizona's 1963 football team.

Hawks Write Gripe about Cage Referee

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Simmering St. Louis brass were writing an official protest today over the officiating in their National Basketball Association Western Division final playoff against Los Angeles and were getting heavy vocal support from Red Auerbach, Boston's only active volcano.

The Hawks and Lakers meet in the sixth game of their series at St. Louis tonight with Los Angeles holding a 3-2 edge. The Royals and Celtics, tied at three victories apiece, meet at Boston Wednesday night in the decisive game of the Eastern Division final.

Meanwhile, it was open season on officials. Hawks General Manager Marty Blake said "the officiating has been inconsistent," and "we're getting rough housed by the Lakers." Blake also said the Hawks would protest remarks allegedly made to Coach Harry Gallatin by Referee Earl Strom.

Strom has denied saying "I'll get you" to Gallatin.

Celtics' Coach Auerbach came back with a loud voice and a set of statistics to criticize the work of referees Sid Burgin and Norm Drucker in Sunday night's 109-99 Cincinnati victory.

"We just want a 50-50 chance from the officials," said Auerbach.

"Cincinnati has played three good games in this series they've won. Two of them were great. The Royals were not so great last (Sunday) night but got some help from the officials."

PCC Lady Golfers Slate Early Start

The lady golfers spring round-up will be held 10 a. m. April 18 at the Pickaway Country Club.

Plans will be made for new golfers and interested persons are urged to attend.

Clinics will be conducted by Tom Cassidy, PCC golf pro through April and May.

A luncheon will be served at noon. Reservations must be made at the country club no later than April 16.

Golf will follow the meeting.

Third Fullmer-Andrews Match Due April 18

RENO, Nev. (AP)—The rubber-match third fight between middleweights Don Fullmer and Eddie Andrews has been tentatively set for April 18 in Reno.

Andrews, a Reno slugger, has been waiting for the fight since late in March, when it was originally scheduled.

Monroe Downs Logan Elm, 10-0

Indians Lead County League with 2 Wins

The Monroe Indians held on to first place in the Pickaway County High School baseball league, shutting out Logan Elm 10-0 yesterday at Five Points.

Mick Hunt was credited with his second win of the season, allowing only one hit, a single by Bob Stant, walking two and setting down 13 batters on strikeouts.

Jeff Lutz, Logan Elm's sophomore hurler, went all the way for the Braves, giving up 11 hits, fanning eight and allowing two bases on balls.

The winners tallied two runs in the second inning and then exploded for eight in the third and fourth.

A PAIR of homers, both with men on accounted for the four run third, while a double, two singles, a walk and an error contributed the four runs in the fourth.

For the remaining three innings Lutz shut out the Indians.

Tom Seeley blasted a double and a homerun to lead the Monroe power brigade. He is now seven for eight at the plate in two games this season.

Randy Richardson powered the other four bagger for the Indians. Gene Long Collected three singles in four trips to the plate.

The next regularly scheduled league game for Monroe is at Jackson Thursday while Logan Elm hosts Jackson.

Why do some nice people try to soften water with rent receipts?

It's really the expensive way to get the sparkling, rain-soft water that you want. Those rent payments keep coming due—as if the receipts themselves were needed to soften the natural hard water.

Buying a Lindsay Water Conditioner is more economical and practical. Installments are about the same or less than rent. In five years the unit is yours. The fiberglass tank is guaranteed for life.

Stan The Man Has Desire To Play in Another Series

NEW YORK (AP)—What's left, Stan Musial? You've accomplished practically everything that can be accomplished in baseball. So what are you trying to prove?

The man who has become a legend in his lifetime actually appeared embarrassed by the questions. He looked around at his teammates, many of them not even born when he first donned a St. Louis Cardinal uniform and strove to find the right words.

"You probably won't believe it," said Stan, the 42-year-old m. a. s., "but I still get a big kick out of being in uniform. I still have that desire."

Then, as if fearing this explanation might sound a bit sophomoric, Musial added sort of defensively: "You've got to have desire to play, particularly when you get older."

Stan looked fit and trim in his 22nd annual issue of the Cardinal uniform as he worked out at the Polo Grounds in preparation for today's opener against the New York Mets.

"Opening day is always exciting," he mused. "This is my 21st or 22nd opener and I never fail to get a thrill on opening day. It's something I look forward to each spring. And believe me, I look forward to this season opener with as much anticipation as I did in my first one more than 20 years ago."

Stan (The Man) said he weighed 180 pounds, the same weight with which he finished the 1962 season, and that he felt as well as he did last year when he played 135 games and batted .330.

With seven batting titles, three most valuable player awards, a lifetime 3,544 hits and a .330 batting average to his credit, what did this remarkable athlete still want in baseball?

"I want to play in another World Series," was the prompt reply.

Ninowski Joins Ryan In Inking Browns' Pact

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jim Ninowski, who started the season at quarterback for the Cleveland Browns last year, has signed his 1963 contract.

Ninowski and Frank Ryan, who took over the passing chores in mid-season after Ninowski was injured, are the only two members of the 1963 Browns so far to sign contracts.

Jim Nance, 220-pound Syracuse posted an 8-0 record as a heavy weight wrestler this winter.

Mississippi Wins Small College Laurels

NEW YORK (AP)—Earl Glass, a 6-foot senior from Mississippi Industrial, was the small college basketball scoring champion for the 1962-63 season with the second highest average in history, according to figures released today by the NAA service bureau.

Glass averaged 42.9 points for 19 games, a pace bettered only by the 46.5 posted by Bevo Francis of Rio Grande in 1953-54. The only other 40-point scorer in collegiate history was Frank Selvy of Furman, who hit at a 41.7 clip in 1953-54.

Ticket Scalpers Due In Cincinnati Court

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two men who tried to make their investments in the Cincinnati Reds baseball team pay off have a date in Police Court today.

They are Howard Hudson, 28, Dayton, and William Wilson 34, Middletown. Both were charged with ticket scalping at the National League season-opener Monday.

Police said Hudson, who told them he was "only trying to make beer money," sold tickets for $4 each for $5 apiece. Wilson was charged with selling four $3.75 tickets for $20.

Indian Babies Await Baptism

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbetts must have had a little prayer on his lips today as he sent his "babies" to do battle in the opening game of the Indians' 1963 season.

A rookie-studded lineup—one of the youngest starting lineups in Tribe history—goes against the Minnesota Twins, which fields a team little changed from the squad that developed into a pennant contender last year.

The average age of the Cleveland starters is 26, and the old man is Woodie Held, 31. There are five new faces, and all five are 25 or under.

Indian Babies Await Baptism

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbetts must have had a little prayer on his lips today as he sent his "babies" to do battle in the opening game of the Indians' 1963 season.

A rookie-studded lineup—one of the youngest starting lineups in Tribe history—goes against the Minnesota Twins, which fields a team little changed from the squad that developed into a pennant contender last year.

The average age of the Cleveland starters is 26, and the old man is Woodie Held, 31. There are five new faces, and all five are 25 or under.

One of the youngsters whom Tebbetts calls his babies just joined the Tribe last week and played in only two exhibition games with his teammates.

That is Ellis Burton, acquired from the Houston Colts, who got the nod over veteran Willie Kirkland for the right field spot.

Rookies Vic Davalillo, Tony Martinez and Max Alvis have been touted as having great potential. If they get off to a good start this year it will be a big help for them, Tebbetts remarked.

"It can carry them all the way through the way it did for (Rich) Rollins last year."

Rollins, of Parma, Ohio, a Cleveland suburb, got off to a flying start last year, was the Twins' top batter with a .298 average and won all-star and sophomore-of-the-year honors. He was left off today's lineup because of a broken jaw and is expected to be out three or four days.

What Tebbetts is attempting this year is the same thing that worked for Sam Mele, Minnesota manager last year. Mele went with rookies Rollins and Bernie Allen of East Liverpool, Ohio. The rookies came through, and the Twins finished a surprising second in the league.

For Cleveland hurler Jim (Mudcat) Grant, today gave him his first time to start an opener, which had been one of his goals in baseball.

Mele gave the opening assignment to Camilo Pascual, a game winner last year.

Some 30,000 fans were expected at Metropolitan Stadium in suburban Bloomington. The forecast was cool and cloudy weather with chance of light rain.

Jerry Zeman, a right tackle from Morgan, Pa., and Ted Christy, fullback from Phoenix, will captain Arizona's 1963 football team.

Third Fuller-Andrews Match Due April 18

RENO, Nev. (AP)—The rubber-match third fight between middleweights Don Fuller and Eddie Andrews has been tentatively set for April 18 in Reno.

Andrews, a Reno slugger, has been waiting for the fight since late in March, when it was originally scheduled.

Hawks Write Gripe about Cage Referee

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Simmering St. Louis brass were writing an official protest today over the officiating in their National Basketball Association Western Division final playoff against Los Angeles and were getting heavy vocal support from Red Auerbach, Boston's only active volcano.

The Hawks and Lakers meet in the sixth game of their series at St. Louis tonight with Los Angeles holding a 3-2 edge. The Royals and Celtics, tied at three victories apiece, meet at Boston Wednesday night in the decisive game of the Eastern Division final.

Meanwhile, it was open season on officials. Hawks General Manager Marty Blake said "the officiating has been inconsistent," and "we're getting rough housed by the Lakers." Blake also said the Hawks would protest remarks allegedly made to Coach Harry Gallatin by Referee Earl Strom.

Strom has denied saying "I'll get you" to Gallatin.

Celtics' Coach Auerbach came back with a loud voice and a set of statistics to criticize the work of referees Sid Borgia and Norm Drucker in Sunday night's 109-99 Cincinnati victory.

"We just want a 50-50 chance from the officials," said Auerbach. "Cincinnati has played three good games in this series they've won. Two of them were great. The Royals were not so great last (Sunday) night but got some help from the officials."

PCC Lady Golfers Slate Early Start

The lady golfers spring round-up will be held 10 a. m. April 18 at the Pickaway Country club.

Plans will be made for new golfers and interested persons are urged to attend.

Clinics will be conducted by Tom Cassidy, PCC golf pro through April and May.

A luncheon will be served at noon. Reservations must be made at the country club no later than April 16.

Golf will follow the meeting.

Monroe Downs Logan Elm, 10-0

The Monroe Indians held on to first place in the Pickaway County High School baseball league, shutting out Logan Elm 10-0 yesterday at Five Points.

Mick Hunt was credited with his second win of the season, allowing only one hit, a single by Bob Stant, walking two and setting down 13 batters on strikeouts.

Jeff Lutz, Logan Elm's sophomore hurler, went all the way for the Braves, giving up 11 hits, fanning eight and allowing two bases on balls.

The winners tallied two runs in the second inning and then exploded for eight in the third and fourth.

A PAIR of homers, both with men on accounted for the four run third, while a double, two singles, a walk and an error contributed the four runs in the fourth.

For the remaining three innings Lutz shut out the Indians.

Tom Seelye blasted a double and a homerun to lead the Monroe power brigade. He is now seven for eight at the plate in two games this season.

Randy Richardson powered the other four bagger for the Indians. Gene Long collected three singles in four trips to the plate.

The next regularly scheduled league game for Monroe is at Jackson Thursday while Logan Elm hosts Jackson.

Why do some nice people try to soften water with rent receipts

It's really the expensive way to get the sparkling, rain-soft water that you want. Those rent payments keep coming due—as if the receipts themselves were needed to soften the natural hard water.

Buying a Lindsay Water Conditioner is more economical and practical. Installments are about the same or less than rent. In five years the unit is yours. The fiberglass tank is guaranteed for life.

Let the conditioner soften your water—instead of using rent receipts. It's really much cheaper. You might set up a nice savings policy by paying that rent to yourself.

Remember, More People BUY Lindsay Than Any Other Water Conditioner.

Legion Baseball Program Ready

100,000-Plus Boys Due To Participate

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Nobody knows the total attendance or exact number of athletes in one of the biggest sports programs, American Legion baseball.

George W. Rulon, commissioner of the program, talked to local baseball officials in 19 states and the District of Columbia in the last few months and concluded well over 100,000 boys will be playing on legion teams this summer.

"It looks like our 38th season will be the biggest yet," Rulon said, "but the number of teams and boys at the local level won't be reflected in our national reports."

He explained that a big majority of the teams are not certified for the national tournament. Single teams—the best ones—are certified for some cities which have dozens. For Example, Bloomington, Ill., with more than 1,100 boys in legion baseball, sends one team into the tourney. So do Salem, Ohio, with 600 boys playing, and Grand Rapids, Mich., with more than 40 teams.

The commissioner estimates that 2,415 teams certified for last year's national tourney, won by St. Louis, represented less than a fourth of the legion teams.

Legion national finals will begin Aug. 25 at Keene, N. H., after a three-year stand at Hastings, Neb. It will be the first championship round in New England since the 1942 tourney at Manchester, N.H.

Regional eliminations for state champions will be on dates yet to be set. The sites include Lima, Ohio.

The American Legion boasts that 1,446 of its boys have become major league players. It contributed 56 per cent of last year's rosters. The majors acknowledge the debt by underwriting the program with about $90,000 a year.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Long after Sir Winston Churchill is gone

Views on TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—That annual spring rite of Hollywood, the awarding of the Motion Picture Academy's statuettes, may not be television's best show of the year, but it always has a certain fascination.

There's the mounting excitement about the top awards, of course. Even more, there are the stars to see and for the ladies of the home audience, there are the star's dresses. It's a long two hours, but still it's sort of fun.

Monday night the ABC production started out rather dimly. The cameras were out of focus and the sound was fuzzy.

When they cleared up, Frank Sinatra was off to a rather out-of-focus start. As master of ceremonies, he gave a little lecture in show biz slang on making better pictures in Hollywood, using the "Mona Lisa" as an example.

At one point, he referred to La Gioconda as "that chick," but the laughs never came.

But his material, too, cleared up a little as the ceremony went along.

The show sped along at a no-nonsense clip. The greatest improvement was grouping the songs rather than singing them interminably through the evening.

The entire television industry had been badly shaken and upset by revelations during the congressional hearings on the operations of the ratings services. Networks' television in particular, has had a tendency to lean heavily on estimates of audience sizes made by the research companies.

"The numbers game" has been the single most important factor in persuading most sponsors to buy programs and has been all important in determining whether a series was canceled early in the season.

The Washington hearings have revealed some enormous holes in the fabric of broadcast audience sampling. The problem is what to do about it, because obviously stations and sponsors must have some way of finding out how many people are getting their expensive messages.

Recommended tonight: "Garry Moore Show," CBS, 10-11 (EST)—Singer Vic Damone and comedian Alan King, guest-stars; "The Miners' Lament," ABC, 10:30-11—"Close-Up" documentary on harsh conditions in eastern Kentucky.

men will trudge around his memory, like scholars around a pyramid, wondering how he was put together.

The ceremony for him today, giving him honorary American citizenship at 88, is both a tribute to a man and recognition of a monument. The man and the monument were built out of many unhappy experiences.

Language was his magic cement.

His greatest triumph perhaps was within himself. For 65 years he searched for acceptance, starting when he was a child. His father had little time for him and, apparently, small esteem. When he was 21 his father died.

Churchill regretted it for more reasons than one. Years later, looking back, he wrote that he had been eagerly awaiting the day when his father would accept him as an equal.

This quest for acceptance may explain much of his life: his brassiness, pushiness, endless airing of opinion, and his compulsion to dominate. They were tools he used to jimmy the door to distinction.

They only brought him disregard until under pressure of war the door opened and he became a cherished figure of history. His father would have had to accept him then, but probably with astonishment.

This was only one side of Churchill. While he thrilled to conflict, he loved life. This more than anything, made the contrast between him and Hitler look like the difference between a wolf and a shepherd.

Konrad Heiden, a biographer of Hitler but not an admirer of his sensitivity, said Der Fuehrer was a "child of nature quite capable of frying a chop over a Stradivarius violin."

Edgar Black, one of Churchill's biographers, said he scared his African guides when he went wandering around the Uganda lion country with a butterfly net. He loved butterflies.

Hitler went in for magic, astrology and quack doctors. One of his physicians said he aged rapidly after the war began. By the time Hitler at 56 killed himself in a Berlin bunker in 1945 he looked senile.

Churchill, too civilized for quacks or magic, grew heady on war and late hours, and nearing 69, wanted to take part in the Normandy invasion. Only the king stopped him. He wasn't easily deterred in any direction.

He got a brain concussion at 5 when he fell off a donkey. At 18 he fell 29 feet into a ravine, ruptured a kidney, was unconscious three days and in bed three months.

He had pneumonia several times, suffered a bunch of broken bones when a taxi hit him in 1932 in New York, and had a hernia operation in 1947. A stroke hit him in 1950 and another in 1953. He broke a hip in 1962 at 88.

When he got pneumonia in 1943, one of his doctors told him pneumonia is the "old man's friend" because it "takes them off so easily." In his memoirs Churchill said "I made a suitable reply." He didn't put it in print.

It was one of the comedies of history when Churchill, who tried to dominate all conversations, complained that Roosevelt tried to dominate.

Roosevelt had reservations about the ideas which bubbled out of Churchill—he said "Winston had a hundred ideas a day and about four are good"—but the ideas were part of his zeal.

Another biographer, Robert Lewis Taylor, saw that same zeal when Churchill painted: "A gigantic easel, a light blue smock, and a flapping beret the size of a small tent."

"In the words of one of his friends: 'He was a hell of a sight, if you know what I mean.' Churchill, like his idol, Edward Gibbon, had a compassion for the loneliness of nouns and hardly ever let them go unscouted by an adjective. The nouns weren't always prime and the adjectives weren't always proper."

The British philosopher, C. E. M. Joad, summed up Churchill in a sentence: "When the crisis came he turned out to be the average Englishman but the average Englishman raised to the nth degree."

Another Ring Death Spurs Boxing Probe

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Another Australian boxer was stricken after a ring beating and was taken to a hospital with a mild concussion today, as investigations into the recent rash of boxing deaths were pushed on several fronts.

The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore also launched a new attack against boxing, calling it a "means of useless massacre."

The boxer, Australian bantamweight champion Billy Males, was taken to St. George's Hospital in Sydney, where his condition was listed as not serious.

Males began vomiting after he lost a 12-round decision to Gene Aragon of the Philippines.

Two Australian boxers, pro Norman Smith and amateur Enzo Barelli, died of ring injuries last week, along with Francisco Valasquez, 19, a Puerto Rican in the U.S. Army, who died after an amateur bout in Carbondale, Pa.

Valequez' death was the fifth of the year, including featherweight champion Davey Moore, who died March 25, four days after he lost his title to Sugar Ramos in Los Angeles.

In the aftermath of the death in Pennsylvania, the Rev. Joseph T. Conboy, moderator of athletics at St. Michael's School for Boys at Hoban Heights said the school has dropped boxing.

A St. Michael's boy, Earl Johnson, 17, landed the blow that knocked out Valasquez.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Long after Sir Winston Churchill is gone

Views on TV-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—That annual spring rite of Hollywood, the awarding of the Motion Picture Academy's statuette, may not be television's best show of the year, but it always has a certain fascination.

There's the mounting excitement about the top awards, of course. Even more, there are the stars to see and for the ladies of the home audience, there are the stars' dresses. It's a long two hours, but still it's sort of fun. Monday night the ABC production started out rather dimly. The cameras were out of focus and the sound was fuzzy.

When they cleared up, Frank Sinatra was off to a rather out-of-focus start. As master of ceremonies, he gave a little lecture in show biz slang on making better pictures in Hollywood, using the "Mona Lisa" as an example. At one point, he referred to La Giacoma as "that chick," but the laughs never came.

But his material, too, cleared up a little as the ceremony went along. The show sped along at a no-nonsense clip. The greatest improvement was grouping the songs rather than singing them interminably through the evening.

The entire television industry had been badly shaken and upset by revelations during the congressional hearings on the operations of the ratings services. Network television in particular, has had a tendency to lean heavily on estimates of audience sizes made by the research companies.

"The numbers game" has been the single most important factor in persuading most sponsors to buy programs and has been all important in determining whether a series was canceled early in the season.

The Washington hearings have revealed some enormous holes in the fabric of broadcast audience sampling. The problem is what to do about it, because obviously stations and sponsors must have some way of finding out how many people are getting their expensive messages.

Recommended tonight: "Garry Moore Show," CBS, 10-11 (EST)—Singer Vic Damone and comedian Alan King, guest-stars; "The Miners' Lament," ABC, 10:30-11—"Close-Up" documentary on harsh conditions in eastern Kentucky.

men will trudge around his memory, like scholars around a pyramid, wondering how he was put together.

The ceremony for him today, giving him honorary American citizenship at 88, is both a tribute to a man and recognition of a monument. The man and the monument were built out of many unhappy experiences.

Language was his magic cement.

His greatest triumph perhaps was within himself. For 65 years he searched for acceptance, starting when he was a child. His father had little time for him and, apparently, small esteem. When he was 21 his father died.

Churchill regretted it for more reasons than one. Years later, looking back, he wrote that he had been eagerly awaiting the day when his father would accept him as an equal.

This quest for acceptance may explain much of his life: his brassiness, pushiness, endless airing of opinion, and his compulsion to dominate. They were tools he used to jimmy the door to distinction.

They only brought him disregard until under pressure of war the door opened and he became a cherished figure of history. His father would have had to accept him then, but probably with astonishment.

This was only one side of Churchill. While he thrilled to conflict, he loved life. This more than anything, made the contrast between him and Hitler look like the difference between a wolf and a shepherd.

Konrad Heiden, a biographer of Hitler but not an admirer of his sensitivity, said Der Fuehrer was a "child of nature quite capable of frying a chop over a Stradivarius violin."

Edgar Black, one of Churchill's biographers, said he scared his African guides when he went wandering around the Uganda lion country with a butterfly net. He loved butterflies.

Hitler went in for magic, astrology and quack doctors. One of his physicians said he aged rapidly after the war began. By the time Hitler at 56 killed himself in a Berlin bunker in 1945 he looked senile.

Churchill, too civilized for quacks or magic, grew heady on war and late hours, and nearing 69, wanted to take part in the Normandy invasion. Only the king stopped him. He wasn't easily deterred in any direction.

He got a brain concussion at 5 when he fell off a donkey. At 18 he fell 29 feet into a ravine, ruptured a kidney, was unconscious three days and in bed three months.

He had pneumonia several times, suffered a bunch of broken bones when a taxi hit him in 1932 in New York, and had a hernia operation in 1947. A stroke hit him in 1950 and another in 1953. He broke a hip in 1962 at 88.

When he got pneumonia in 1943, one of his doctors told him pneumonia is the "old man's friend" because it "takes them off so easily." In his memoirs Churchill said "I made a suitable reply."

He didn't put it in print. It was one of the comedies of history when Churchill, who tried to dominate all conversations, complained that Roosevelt tried to dominate.

Roosevelt had reservations about the ideas which bubbled out of Churchill—he said "Winston had a hundred ideas a day and about four are good"—but the ideas were part of his zeal.

Another biographer, Robert Lewis Taylor, saw that same zeal when Churchill painted: "A gigantic easel, a light blue smock, and a flapping beret the size of a small tent."

"In the words of one of his friends: 'He was a hell of a sight, if you know what I mean.'"

Churchill, like his idol, Edward Gibbon, had a compassion for the loneliness of nouns and hardly ever let them go unscouted by an adjective. The nouns weren't always prime and the adjectives weren't always proper.

The British philosopher, C. E. M. Joad, summed up Churchill in a sentence: "When the crisis came he turned out to be the average Englishman but the average Englishman raised to the nth degree."

Another Ring Death Spurs Boxing Probe

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Another Australian boxer was stricken after a ring beating and was taken to a hospital with a mild concussion today, as investigations into the recent rash of boxing deaths were pushed on several fronts.

The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore also launched a new attack against boxing, calling it a "means of useless massacre."

The boxer, Australian bantamweight champion Billy Males, was taken to St. George's Hospital in Sydney, where his condition was listed as not serious.

Males began vomiting after he lost a 12-round decision to Gene Aragon of the Philippines. Two Australian boxers, pro Norman Smith and amateur Enzo Barelli, died of ring injuries last week, along with Francisco Valasquez, 19, a Puerto Rican in the U.S. Army, who died after an amateur bout in Carbondale, Pa.

Valequez' death was the fifth of the year, including featherweight champion Davey Moore, who died March 25, four days after he lost his title to Sugar Ramos in Los Angeles.

In the aftermath of the death in Pennsylvania, the Rev. Joseph T. Conboy, moderator of athletics at St. Michael's School for Boys at Hoban Heights said the school has dropped boxing.

A St. Michael's boy, Earl Johnson, 17, landed the blow that knocked out Valasquez.

Birmingham's 'Bull' Proud Of Nickname

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Eugene Connor wears his nickname "Bull" with pride. Standing on a sidewalk yelling for dogs to halt Negro demonstrations—his eyes flashing—he is one of Alabama's stormiest political figures.

He is an ardent segregationist and public safety commissioner at Birmingham, which finds itself caught up in mushrooming racial troubles.

He has vowed to fill Birmingham's jail with integrationists. Since racial demonstrations began last Wednesday, 96 Negroes have been jailed.

Connor, 62, appears to be anybody's grandfather. He becomes stern in the face of racial difficulties.

He got his nickname because of the booming voice he used in announcing baseball games for a Birmingham radio station more than 20 years ago.

A demonstration last Saturday flared into violence for about 15 seconds—the length of time it took Connor and policemen with dogs to rush into a crowd of about 200.

"If they want to go to jail, we'll put 'em there. Give 'em what they want. That's our motto."

Connor's white supremacist fervor attracted national attention in 1948 when he stalked out of the Democratic National Convention in Philadelphia, leading half the Alabama delegation after debate on a civil rights plank in the party platform.

Ransom Drugs Go to Soviet?

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union may have received the millions of dollars worth of American medicine used to ransom Bay of Pigs prisoners, Rep. Samuel L. Devine, R-Ohio, says.

Devine, who returned Sunday from a visit to the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay in Cuba, said exiles taking refuge there expressed that belief.

He said the exiles told him that medicine is in great shortage in Cuba and that prices are high.

"One husband stated that his wife was ill and went to Havana for treatment. She was charged $30, U.S. money, for one injection (presumably penicillin)," Devine said.

"The exiles agreed that the medicines sent into Cuba by the United States were sent to Russia and hardly any is available for Cubans," he added.

12 Face Trial In Newport Vice Probe

FALMOUTH, Ky. (AP)—Twelve present and former Newport officials and policemen go on trial in Pendleton Circuit Court Aug. 5—almost two years after they were indicted on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice.

A special Campbell County grand jury reported the indictments to Special Circuit Judge Edward Hill of Harlan on Sept. 13, 1961. That same grand jury also indicted scores of gambling house operators.

The gamblers pleaded guilty to misdemeanor charges last year and paid maximum cash fines, but the officials' case did not come up until last month.

Defense attorney Daniel Davies asked for a change of venue on the grounds of irregularities in selecting persons for jury duty. Judge Hill granted the motion on March 14, and transferred the trial to Pendleton Circuit Court, where Judge John Lairs set the date Monday.

Mysterious Illness Hits 1800 in Area

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (AP)—Dr. John H. Janney, a Maryland Health Department official said today a mysterious disease which has afflicted about 1,800 persons on Maryland's Eastern Shore seems to be tapering off.

The unidentified ailment continues to baffle the experts, said Dr. Janney.

Most of the affected persons live in the fishing community of Dames Quarter in Somerset County. Dr. Everett C. Sutter, who has treated most of the affected persons, contracted the disease last week.

The disease is characterized by dizziness, high fever, headaches, enlargement of the lymph glands and tenderness of the spleen and liver. Antibiotics have proved ineffective, Sutter said. Bed rest is about all he prescribes.

Blood samples are being studied at the National Institutes of Health at Bethesda, Md., which specializes in virus diagnosis, Janney said, but the results will not be known for a week or 10 days.

Sutter, the only doctor in Dames Quarter, is in satisfactory condition at a hospital in Salisbury. He was stricken with severe abdominal pains last week while treating a patient.

The disease appeared in mid-December, hitting its peak in mid-January.

Greenfield Gets Time To End Sewage Problem

GREENFIELD, Ohio (AP)—This Highland County city has received another extension of its state permit to discharge effluent from a sewage treatment plant into Paint Creek.

The Water Pollution Control Board Monday issued the extension until next Jan. 15. The permit is conditional on Greenfield's going ahead with planned improvements to the sewage plant.

Walton was chosen as vice chairman of the board of directors of the Cincinnati-based river transportation company.

Kiss of Judas

"AND IMMEDIATELY, while He yet spake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders. And he that betrayed Him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is He; take Him, and lead Him away safely. And as soon as He was come, he goeth straightaway to Him, and saith, Master, Master; and kissed Him. And they laid their hands on Him, and took Him."—St. Mark 14: 43-46.

Highway Safety Staffer Named

Edwin G. Lawton, 39, of Columbus, has been appointed to the administrative staff of the Ohio Department of Highway Safety, it was announced today by Director Warren C. Nelson.

Lawton will provide a liaison between nine central Ohio counties and the State Highway Safety Department offices in Columbus. Among his duties will be to coordinate and provide leadership for safety groups in this area. Many of the agencies with which he will work closely are made up chiefly of volunteers in the field of traffic safety.

Director Nelson pointed out that Lawton's territory consists of the following counties: Pickaway, Delaware, Fairfield, Franklin, Knox, Licking, Madison, Perry and Union.

Lawton is a veteran of World War II and is a member of the American Legion. He and his wife are residents of 1153 Mulford Road. They have a daughter, Vicki Lynn, 3½ years old, and a son, David John, 7½ months old.

Mrs. Mallory Freed Again In New Appeal

CLEVELAND (AP)—Willie Mae Mallory was free on bond today for the second time in 13 months pending action on a court appeal in a new battle to stave off extradition to Monroe, N.C.

The 35-year-old Negro, wanted in Monroe on a charge of kidnapping a white couple during a racial disturbance, walked out of the Cuyahoga County jail after a bond of $15,000 was furnished Monday by a bonding company.

She was released previously March 14, on $15,000 bond set by the Ohio Supreme Court pending final disposition of her appeal of the extradition order signed by former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

Mrs. Mallory remained free only eight days last month. Her bond was cancelled when the U. S. Supreme Court refused to review her case.

However, her attorney, Walter S. Haffner, initiated a new action through the U.S. courts, filing for a writ of habeas corpus on the grounds that the extradition order is illegal.

Man Bound to Jury In Slaying of Nephew

LOGAN, Ohio (AP)—John Smith, 48, of Blue Creek has been bound over to the Hocking County grand jury on a second-degree murder charge.

Smith pleaded innocent Monday in the fatal shooting of his nephew, Orley Smith, 24, of Laurelville. The shooting occurred last Saturday at Smith's home. His bond was set at $10,000.

Business Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Cook Jr., of the Lewis E. Cook Insurance Agency, are guest of the Republic-Franklin Insurance Companies during the firm's third annual sales conference at the Deshler-Hilton Hotel in Columbus, tomorrow and Thursday.

They are among some 170 outstanding independent Ohio insurance agents and their wives attending the conference, according to William C. Cook, RFI president.

In lieu of the business sessions, the wives will be guests of the insurance companies at a special dessert tea and style show.

K of P Initiation Slated Monday

The rank of knight was conferred on Leslie Hines Monday evening during initiatory ceremonies conducted by Philos Lodge No. 64, Knights of Pythias.

Rank of page will also be conferred on a class of candidates during the Monday meeting scheduled to get underway at 8 p. m.

Vaughn Reichelderfer, master of work, will be in charge of the initiation ceremonies.

Ohio Gambling Law Rapped

LISBON, Ohio (AP)—Four Pittsburgh men, officers of the Lisbon Sales Book Co., say they will ask the State Supreme Court to rule whether Ohio's new anti-gambling law is constitutional.

R. Brooke Alloway of Columbus, attorney for the men, indicated this will be his next move after a conference Monday with G. William Brokaw, Columbiana County prosecutor.

The four have been charged with printing numbers wagering slips in violation of the new state law. They are Martin Sufrin, company president; Isadore Sufrin, vice president; Joseph Sufrin, secretary - treasurer, and Michael Scheidmeier, general manager.

All have been free on $1,000 bond. They were charged after former Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy let a raid on the firm in September 1961.

FIVE PLACES AT DAYTONA...WHEN YOUR '63 FORD IS STILL GOING STRONG YEAR AFTER YEAR

Daytona's big, banked oval puts unbelievable stresses and strains on engines, steering gears and frames. The Fords that won at Daytona took all the punishment this famous track could dish out over 500 miles of grueling competition without missing a beat.

In this toughest of all stock car events, mechanical failures claimed over fifty per cent of the starting field. But of twelve Fords entered, nine went the distance. Ford took six of the first ten places.

Five-hundred-mile events like Daytona are a public demonstration of toughness, reliability and sheer engineering excellence that are part of the new generation of Fords. A test like this can't be duplicated on anybody's testing grounds—it's run right out in the open. Any car can enter. But only the car that has the best total combination of strength, balance, precision control and road-clinging suspension can win... that's what we mean by total performance.

Visit your Ford Dealer before you buy any other new car. Here's what you'll find: a new kind of total-car durability, a new kind of handling ability, a suspension that is startlingly smooth yet sticks to the road like tar. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Remember, if it's built by Ford, it's built for performance... total performance!

DIP FOR LIP—Appearing in a TV show as a catcher, Leo (The Lip) Durocher, the Dodgers' coach, winds up all wet after catching a fast ball thrown by Donna Douglas as part of the act.

Birmingham's 'Bull' Proud Of Nickname

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Eugene Connor wears his nickname "Bull" with pride. Standing on a sidewalk yelling for dogs to halt Negro demonstrations—his eyes flashing—he is one of Alabama's stormiest political figures.

He is an ardent segregationist and public safety commissioner at Birmingham, which finds itself caught up in mushrooming racial troubles.

He has vowed to fill Birmingham's jail with integrationists. Since racial demonstrations began last Wednesday, 96 Negroes have been jailed.

Connor, 62, appears to be anybody's grandfather. He becomes stern in the face of racial difficulties.

He got his nickname because of the booming voice he used in announcing baseball games for a Birmingham radio station more than 20 years ago.

A demonstration last Saturday flared into violence for about 15 seconds—the length of time it took Connor and policemen with dogs to rush into a crowd of about 200.

"If they want to go to jail, we'll put 'em there. Give 'em what they want. That's our motto."

Connor's white supremacist fervor attracted national attention in 1948 when he stalked out of the Democratic National Convention in Philadelphia, leading half the Alabama delegation after debate on a civil rights plank in the party platform.

Ransom Drugs Go to Soviet?

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union may have received the millions of dollars worth of American medicine used to ransom Bay of Pigs prisoners, Rep. Samuel L. Devine, R-Ohio, says.

Devine, who returned Sunday from a visit to the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay in Cuba, said exiles taking refuge there expressed that belief.

He said the exiles told him that medicine is in great shortage in Cuba and that prices are high.

"One husband stated that his wife was ill and went to Havana for treatment. She was charged $30, U.S. money, for one injection (presumably penicillin)," Devine said.

"The exiles agreed that the medicines sent into Cuba by the United States were sent to Russia and hardly any is available for Cubans," he added.

12 Face Trial In Newport Vice Probe

FALMOUTH, Ky. (AP)—Twelve present and former Newport officials and policemen go on trial in Pendleton Circuit Court Aug. 5—almost two years after they were indicted on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice.

A special Campbell County grand jury reported the indictments to Special Circuit Judge Edward Hill of Harlan on Sept. 13, 1961. That same grand jury also indicted scores of gambling house operators.

The gamblers pleaded guilty to misdemeanor charges last year and paid maximum cash fines, but the officials' case did not come up until last month.

Defense attorney Daniel Davies asked for a change of venue on the grounds of irregularities in selecting persons for jury duty. Judge Hill granted the motion on March 14, and transferred the trial to Pendleton Circuit Court, where Judge John Lairs set the date Monday.

Mysterious Illness Hits 1800 in Area

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (AP)—Dr. John H. Janney, a Maryland Health Department official said today a mysterious disease which has afflicted about 1,800 persons on Maryland's Eastern Shore seems to be tapering off.

The unidentified ailment continues to baffle the experts, said Dr. Janney.

Most of the affected persons live in the fishing community of Dames Quarter in Somerset County. Dr. Everett C. Sutter, who has treated most of the affected persons, contracted the disease last week.

The disease is characterized by dizziness, high fever, headaches, enlargement of the lymph glands and tenderness of the spleen and liver. Antibiotics have proved ineffective, Sutter said. Bed rest is about all he prescribes.

Blood samples are being studied at the National Institutes of Health at Bethesda, Md., which specializes in virus diagnosis, Janney said, but the results will not be known for a week or 10 days.

Sutter, the only doctor in Dames Quarter, is in satisfactory condition at a hospital in Salisbury. He was stricken with severe abdominal pains last week while treating a patient.

The disease appeared in mid-December, hitting its peak in mid-January.

Greenfield Gets Time To End Sewage Problem

GREENFIELD, Ohio (AP)—This Highland County city has received another extension of its state permit to discharge effluent from a sewage treatment plant into Paint Creek.

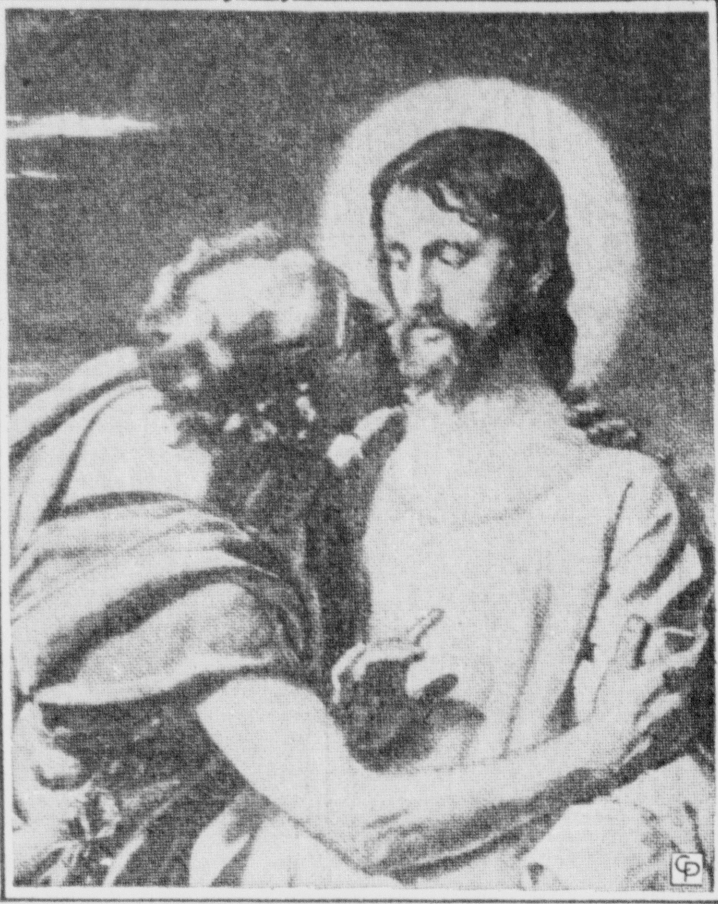

The Water Pollution Control Board Monday issued the extension until next Jan. 15. The permit is conditional on Greenfield's going ahead with planned improvements to the sewage plant.

River Transportation Firm Names New Chief

CINCINNATI (AP)—Louis R. Fiore has been elected president of the Ohio River Co., succeeding C. Russell Walton.

Walton was chosen as vice chairman of the board of directors of the Cincinnati-based river transportation company.

Kiss of Judas

"AND IMMEDIATELY, while He yet spake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders. And he that betrayed Him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is He; take Him, and lead Him away safely. And as soon as He was come, he goeth straightaway to Him, and saith, Master, Master; and kissed Him. And they laid their hands on Him, and took Him."—St. Mark 14: 43-46.

Highway Safety Staffer Named

Edwin G. Lawton, 39, of Columbus, has been appointed to the administrative staff of the Ohio Department of Highway Safety, it was announced today by Director Warren C. Nelson.

Lawton will provide a liaison between nine central Ohio counties and the State Highway Safety Department offices in Columbus. Among his duties will be to coordinate and provide leadership for safety groups in this area. Many of the agencies with which he will work closely are made up chiefly of volunteers in the field of traffic safety.

Director Nelson pointed out that Lawton's territory consists of the following counties: Pickaway, Delaware, Fairfield, Franklin, Knox, Licking, Madison, Perry and Union.

Lawton is a veteran of World War II and is a member of the American Legion. He and his wife are residents of 1153 Mulford Road. They have a daughter, Vicki Lynn, 3½ years old, and a son, David John, 7½ months old.

Egg Hunt Held At Children's Home

The Davis Demons, a local drum corps, sponsored an Easter Egg Hunt at the Pickaway County Children's Home on Palm Sunday.

Following the hunt, the corps presented a musical program and distributed gifts to children who found eggs marked for prizes.

Mrs. Mallory Freed Again In New Appeal

CLEVELAND (AP)—Willie Mae Mallory was free on bond today for the second time in 13 months pending action on a court appeal in a new battle to stave off extradition to Monroe, N.C.

The 35-year-old Negro, wanted in Monroe on a charge of kidnapping a white couple during a racial disturbance, walked out of the Cuyahoga County jail after a bond of $15,000 was furnished Monday by a bonding company.

She was released previously March 14, on $15,000 bond set by the Ohio Supreme Court pending final disposition of her appeal of the extradition order signed by former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

Mrs. Mallory remained free only eight days last month. Her bond was cancelled when the U. S. Supreme Court refused to review her case.

However, her attorney, Walter S. Haffner, initiated a new action through the U. S. courts, filing for a writ of habeas corpus on the grounds that the extradition order is illegal.

Man Bound to Jury In Slaying of Nephew

LOGAN, Ohio (AP)—John Smith, 48, of Blue Creek has been bound over to the Hocking County grand jury on a second-degree murder charge.

Smith pleaded innocent Monday in the fatal shooting of his nephew, Orley Smith, 24, of Laurelville. The shooting occurred last Saturday at Smith's home. His bond was set at $10,000.

Business Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Cook Jr., of the Lewis E. Cook Insurance Agency, are guest of the Republic-Franklin Insurance Companies during the firm's third annual sales conference at the Deshler-Hilton Hotel in Columbus, tomorrow and Thursday.

They are among some 170 outstanding independent Ohio insurance agents and their wives attending the conference, according to William C. Cook, RFI president.

In lieu of the business sessions, the wives will be guests of the insurance companies at a special dessert tea and style show.

K of P Initiation Slated Monday

The rank of knight was conferred on Leslie Hines Monday evening during initiatory ceremonies conducted by Philos Lodge No. 64, Knights of Pythias.

Rank of page will also be conferred on a class of candidates during the Monday meeting scheduled to get underway at 8 p. m.

Vaughn Reichelderfer, master of work, will be in charge of the initiation ceremonies.

Ohio Gambling Law Rapped

LISBON, Ohio (AP)—Four Pittsburgh men, officers of the Lisbon Sales Book Co., say they will ask the State Supreme Court to rule whether Ohio's new anti-gambling law is constitutional.

R. Brooke Alloway of Columbus, attorney for the men, indicated this will be his next move after a conference Monday with G. William Brokaw, Columbiana County prosecutor.

The four have been charged with printing numbers waging slips in violation of the new state law. They are Martin Sufrin, company president; Isadore Sufrin, vice president; Joseph Sufrin, secretary-treasurer, and Michael Scheidmeier, general manager.

All have been free on $1,000 bond. They were charged after former Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy led a raid on the firm in September 1961.
